

Twenty-two years ago, January 18, 1929, this writer and his partner, C. E. Palmer of Texarkana, consolidated the newspapers of Hope to end two competing publication lines which had existed under one name or another virtually ever since the town was established.

The trusteeship of those who own and operate America's newspapers is a great and solemn one—especially in a day when fantastic newspaper prices and other inflated costs have produced a situation where in at least 10 American states there is not a town which has more than one paper.

The phenomenon of the one-paper town stands in sharp contrast with Europe. I recall that at one time the city of Paris, France, had 75 newspapers—compared to only about a dozen for our own New York. But there is a vast difference between the nature of European and American newspapers, and the confidence their respective publics place in them.

Newspapers on the continent have an evil tradition of accepting subsidies from men and political parties and special interests, and of mixing news reports and editorial comment so the reader can't tell fact from opinion.

The American press—and I must include with it the press of Great Britain and the Empire Commonwealth—holds to the belief that news reporting shall be factual, accurate and impartial. Editorials are published in special columns separated from the news.

You may, and will, disagree with an American newspaper's editorial policy—but you are never in doubt about it being just what it is: An opinion. And knowing which is opinion and which is factual news you are therefore able to read the whole paper with a greater degree of confidence than any people on earth.

It is a great trust that the preachers of press liberty, first in England and then in America, have handed down to us. And as the years go by we hope America's press may always be deserving of it.

It didn't make good reading in Hope to learn from this morning's newspapers that the Reynolds Metals company has tentatively selected Arkadelphia as the site of its proposed $24-million-dollar aluminum plant—not that we are slow to congratulate the Clark county city on its good fortune, but a representative had also looked over our own area.

As a matter of fact Hope never had a chance to get this particular plant. It requires more water than we have or can possibly acquire.

But only a relatively small segment of industry does require big water supplies. Hope still has much to offer new industry, or old plants that are moving South. We have relatively cheap factory sites, a low dollar tax rate—and if we don't have industrial power right in town we can arrange for it speedily enough. And our position is unique among all cities in that we have not one but two natural gas lines.

The collapse of the Korean truce talks and the hint that British may now join us in force to drive the Reds out of the entire peninsula merely emphasizes the futility of trying to talk to Asia in the language of Western diplomacy.

It is gradually dawning on us that if war is to be fought with words these are weapons that littered China was adept with hundreds of years ago before our own ancestors could either read or write.

But when Red China invaded South Korea she did so with military weapons, something the West is supreme in—and it now seems to have been folly to lay aside the only weapons we really know in order to bandy words with Orientals who have a bigger stock of 'em than we have.

Demonstration Club Officers to Meet Wednesday

The Home Demonstration Club officers training meeting will be held in the Hempstead County court house Wednesday morning from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. All Demonstration Club officers are urged to attend this meeting.

Miss Dorothy Price, District HD Agent from Little Rock, will attend and will assist all the presidents and vice-presidents with parliamentary procedures.

Paul Jones, local newspaper man will assist the reporters in writing up Home Demonstration Club reports.

Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, will assist the secretaries in getting their books set up for the coming year.

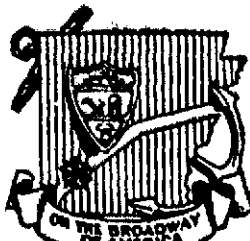

Swim First, Then Walk

A baby hippopotamus can swim before it can walk. The mothers carry them on their backs until they are able to take care of themselves.

Markets

Grain prices advanced after an early decline. Hog prices were irregularly steady to higher while cattle were mostly steady.

Cotton futures opened ten to seven cents a bale lower. Whole sale market was steady to weak.

Arkansas: Partly cloudy, light afternoon, tonight, Saturday. Cooler this afternoon, in east, south tonight.

Temperatures High 80, Low 40.

Testifies Select Group Got State Highway Deal

Little Rock, Jan. 18 (AP)—J.C. Baker, former Arkansas Highway Department Director, is to testify today about purchasing practices of the multi-million dollar road building agency during the past four years.

Baker, who resigned Dec. 15 to enter private business, was questioned yesterday in the second session of the Arkansas Highway Audit Commission's public hearings.

"That session produced testimony that: 1. Gov. McMath's executive secretary, Henry Woods, had to approve all equipment purchases of the Highway Department.

2. Woods also selected the dealer to do business with the state.

3. Persons who did business with the Highway Department were asked to make political campaign contributions.

4. Persons doing business with that department presented Christmas gifts, sometimes cash, to state employees.

Baker testified about a memorandum.

Continued on Page Two

Insists That Wrongdoers Be Punished

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-Lib. N.Y.), an administration supporter, said today the Democratic party "will not hold or deserve the confidence of the people" unless wrongdoers are routed out of federal jobs and punished.

The New York said (1) "corruption in government is bad on its own account" and, (2) it also provides America's enemies abroad with deadly ammunition for propaganda against us.

Lehman's blunt election year remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting here of the Women's National Democratic Club.

Although he called for a prompt and vigorous housecleaning by the Truman administration, Lehman said he would "give no comfort to politically inspired and politically biased attacks upon the government service as such attacks which seek political revenge rather than constructive reform."

He told a reporter before making the address he hopes Mr. Truman runs for another term.

"I think he is by far the strongest candidate the Democrats could put up," he said.

As for foreign propaganda on the corruption issue, Lehman termed it serious but actually "only a minor note in the symphony of hate being played from Moscow." He added:

"While we refer to the denial of personal liberty behind the Iron Curtain, Radio Moscow points to McCarthyism in this country."

That was a reference to the charges made by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), whose methods Lehman has criticized in the past.

In another part of his speech, Lehman said without naming McCarthy:

"We should be shocked at the pillaging of people's reputations, at the stripping from them of their good names and characters, by political hucksters who, under the protection of legislative immunity, pillory people as Communists and subversives. This... is indecent and immoral."

Told of Lehman's remarks, McCarthy said he had no comment.

Methodist Men to Conduct Services Sunday

In the absence of the pastor, who is on the Methodist Evangelism Mission in North Arkansas, laymen of the Spring Hill Methodist Church assisted by men of the Century Bible Class of Hope will conduct the regular Sunday morning preaching service, Elmer Brown, layman of the Hope Church will be the lay speaker.

At 3 p.m. Sen. F. C. Crow will be the lay speaker at Fairview on the Spring Hill Methodist charge. Men of the Century Bible Class will at the request of Bro. Clark, the pastor, be in charge.

The general public is invited to attend these services.

To Review Farm Bureau Objectives

The objectives of Farm Bureau will be reviewed by Joe Hardin, President of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, on the Farm News program of KXAR at 11:30 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning. The many Farm Bureau followers and friends will want to hear Mr. Hardin.

Dimes Benefit Dance Saturday

The American Legion and the B&PW club will sponsor a dance at the American Legion Hut Saturday night for the March of Dimes. Admission will be $1.50 per couple and no stages.

ROKs Reject Popular Vote

Pusan, Korea, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Republic of Korea National Assembly today rejected, 143-19, a move for popular election of the President and creation of a two-house legislature.

The change was urged by President Syngman Rhee.

SHE SOLOED AT TEN—Betty Lee Bennett, age 10, is congratulated by her father, Alfred Bennett of Conway, Pa., after she made her first solo flight in a light plane in Havana, Cuba. Looking on is Alfred Bennett, Jr., who soloed last year at age 11 in Mexico. Bennett, a flyer with 10,000 hours in the air, took his daughter to Cuba because U. S. regulations forbid anyone under 18 to solo.

FLYING DIME COLLECTOR—Larry Jim Gross, left, national March of Dimes Poster Boy, makes the first contribution to a "flying dime bank" that will make a 10,000-mile tour of 20 cities to raise funds for the polio campaign. Helping Larry Jim, at airlines terminal in New York, are Air Force Flight Nurse Lt. Virginia M. Stager and Postmaster Albert Goldman, New York City chairman of the March of Dimes.

Shreveport Attorney Acquitted

Shreveport, La., Jan. 18 (AP)—Whether suspended U. S. Attorney Harvey L. Carey, acquitted on bribery charges, will be allowed to resume his duties remains a question that only U. S. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath can answer.

Carey, accused of soliciting a $60,000 bribe from Texas Oilman Lewis Hart, was acquitted last night by a Federal District Court jury after seven hours of deliberation.

McGrath suspended Carey from office in December, 1950.

He was indicted by a federal grand jury in March on charges he asked a $60,000 bribe from Hart to "settle" 30 perjury counts pending against Hart and four of his employees.

As U. S. attorney, it was up to Carey to prosecute the oilman.

Carey, 36-year-old Purple Heart winner in World War II, stood with bowed head as the clerk read the verdict.

Carey denied during the trial that he suggested a bribe. He testified that he "strung Hart along in hopes of catching a briber."

Tour Bankers to Forrest City

Rome, Jan. 18 (AP)—Sixteen leading American bankers and industrialists including an Arkansas arrival here yesterday on a European tour.

They will stay several days and meet U. S. Ambassador James C. Dunn and Italy's Defense Minister Rinaldo Ossola.

Included was W. W. Campbell of Forrest City, Ark.

Dimes Benefit Dance Saturday

The American Legion and the B&PW club will sponsor a dance at the American Legion Hut Saturday night for the March of Dimes. Admission will be $1.50 per couple and no stages.

ROKs Reject Popular Vote

Pusan, Korea, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Republic of Korea National Assembly today rejected, 143-19, a move for popular election of the President and creation of a two-house legislature.

The change was urged by President Syngman Rhee.

Egypt in Threat to Bring Suez Deal Before UN

Paris, Jan. 18 (UP)—Egypt threatened today to invoke the seven-state Arab Mutual Defense Pact and to seek United Nations Security Council action if the United States, France and Turkey send troops to the Suez Canal Zone in response to Winston Churchill's appeal.

The British prime minister proposed in a speech before the U. S. Congress yesterday that token forces be dispatched to join the British army in the troubled Canal Zone.

An official communique issued by the Egyptian United Nations delegation said the proposal "constitutes a new attempt on the sovereignty of a state, member of the United Nations organization, and is of a nature to compromise the integrity of the state."

Continued on Page Two

Taxes in State May Total $56 Million

Little Rock, Jan. 18 (AP)—Arkansas Comptroller Lee Roy Beasley has announced that Arkansas should collect $56 million dollars in general revenue taxes during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952.

In a report to Gov. McMath on the state's financial condition as of Dec. 31, Beasley said this anticipated total is almost three million dollars above 1950-51 fiscal year's total.

Beasley said that that sum is reached, $24,374,788 will go to the public school fund and 10 million to the public welfare fund.

General revenues include sales, income, cigarette, alcoholic beverage and severance taxes.

Presupposing that the fund will reach the $56 million mark, the following allotments will be made to state funds and agencies:

General fund $3,680,000.
Public institutions $5,873,300.
Public health fund $304,857.
University of Arkansas $3,865,152.

State Teachers College $14,847.
Henderson Teachers college $14,847.

Arkansas A. M. & N. College at Pine Bluff $14,847.
Arkansas State College, Polytechnic College, Southern State College and Arkansas A. & M. College each $360,411.

Beebe Junior College $50,000.
Clinton and Huntsville vocational schools $30,000.

County aid fund $2,823,393.

Municipal aid fund $2,282,286.

Although Political Conventions Are Six Months Away, Four Campaigns Are in Full Swing

By ARTHUR EVSON
(For Hal Boyle)

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Here it is six months until the political conventions, and already at least four presidential campaigns are rolling along.

Literature has been made up, and campaign buttons are being passed out, just as if the game already had started. As indeed, it has.

Let's drop around and have a look at what's stirring in campaign headquarters:

Senator Taft (R-Ohio): Most businesslike office of all. It's in the Standard Oil Company building, right below the capitol.

From the outside it looks like any other business office, except for one thing: A GOP elephant painted on the door capers for joy, apparently because he is wearing a red blanket labelled "Taft."

Campaign Manager Vic Johnson is polishing at the Republican National Committee meeting in San Francisco, but it was allowed to peek into the inner sanctum.

An enormous U. S. map covered one wall. Underneath was the legend, "sales control map." Pins were stuck generously in every state, leaving the impression that headquarters are certain the product, Taft, is selling well from coast to coast.

I counted seven pictures of Taft, looking confident on various walls. Helped myself to the Taft buttons. Nothing frilly. Plain orange button with the single word, "Taft."

Gen. Eisenhower: Most decorated office of all. Must have got their bunting wholesale. The office is dominated by a huge, indirect-lighted picture of the general, looking confident.

National headquarters are in Topeka, Kan. The office here—in the Shoreham Hotel, a couple of miles from downtown Washington—is in charge of Senator Carlson of Kansas. He's in California.

Asked for campaign buttons, I saw a picture of the general, looking confident.

I assured her I never had voted for a candidate because of his bunting.

Asked for campaign buttons, I saw a picture of the general, looking confident.

I assured her I never had voted for a candidate because of his bunting.

Churchill Gets 'No' to Appeal for Suez Help; May Hit China Mainland

Trickery Will Bring Full UN Bomber Attacks

Washington, Jan. 18 (UP)—Red China's railroads, supply centers, power plants and other mainland military targets face massive Allied air attacks if the Communists attempt any more trickery in Korea, official sources said today.

They said the Allied Nations which have troops in Korea have reached "general agreement" to warn China that any major violation of truce terms—if and when they are agreed upon—would prompt quick retaliation beyond Korean theater of operations.

Diplomatic and military officials here believe that the charges are still better than 50-50 that an armistice will eventually be negotiated in Korea, despite Red stalling tactics.

Looking ahead to the problem of enforcing the cease-fire terms they have agreed that the warning of "swift and terrible" punishment for trickery should be placed before the Communists at the time any truce agreement is finally signed at Panmunjom.

Informants said the Reds would be given to understand the penalty for a "double-cross" would include:

1. Allied bombing of railway and communications centers, arsenals, power plants, air fields and other installations in Red China.

2. A light Allied naval blockade whose commanders would be equipped with "shooting orders" to halt Red shipping in Chinese coastal waters.

3. A new major ground offensive in Korea.

It was emphasized that the Allied strategy in event of a truce rupture by the Reds would not call for wholesale bombing of Chinese cities. Neither would it call for any ground invasion by Allied or Nationalist Chinese troops stationed on Formosa.

Air strategists also refused to state that Allied retaliation would include bombardment of the Manchurian air bases were some 700 Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighters are based. The increasing fighter strength at these bases would make them expensive primary targets for strategic bombers.

While the split between London and Washington over Chinese recognition remains on the books, it has thus been reduced considerably in importance.

For the Middle East, Churchill painted a gloomy picture of Britain's declining power and influence in an area where it once was supremely dominant.

He said he would welcome "token forces" to help guard the Suez Canal and keep it open for world traffic.

His proposition apparently took American officials by surprise.

What the response will be remains to be determined. The proposal will be studied in terms both of U. S. relations with Britain and hopes for promoting a friendly settlement of current differences between Britain and Egypt.

W. O. Reece, 63, Former Hope Resident, Dies

William O. Reece, aged 63, a former resident of Hope, died at his home in Pleasant Plains, Ark., Thursday.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Reece three daughters, Mrs. Joe Gentry, Mrs. Allie Mae Starnes of Hope and Mrs. Roydon Green of Knoxville, Calif., and a son, Donald W. Reece of Waco, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Shover Springs Baptist Church by the Rev. Hollis Purdie of Sheridan, assisted by the Rev. Carlton Roberts. Burial will be in Shover Springs Cemetery.

University Gets $100,000 Grant

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—A $100,000 grant has been made available to the University of Arkansas to study the effects of atomic energy on the state.

The grant was announced here last week by the Rockefeller Foundation, which has been studying the effects of atomic energy on the state.

100 Seagulls and Bomber Collide

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—One of the Air Force's 36 bombers and a squadron of seagulls collided here Saturday, it was disclosed today. Both suffered.

Consolidated Utilities, an Air Corp. estimated damage to leading edge of the bomber at $500.

An estimated 100 dead were found on Lindbergh where the collision occurred. The plane came in for a landing.

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

4-H Girls Asked to Enter Pie Baking Contest

All 4-H Club girls 14 years of age or older are invited to participate in the Cherry Pie Baking Contest being sponsored by the Arkansas Power & Light Co. Any girl interested in taking part in the preliminary contest is to exhibit a cherry pie that she has baked Saturday morning, Jan. 19, at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, 707 South Elm Street at 9:30 a.m.

The winner in the preliminary contest Saturday morning will go to Hot Springs Saturday morning, Jan. 20, where she will bake a cherry pie. The winner at Hot Springs will be declared the area winner and will compete for state at the cherry pie baking contest to be held in Little Rock Saturday, February 2.

All 4-H Club girls 14 years of age and older are urged to take part in the county preliminaries Saturday morning, Jan. 19 at 9:30 a.m.

British Ready to Follow U. S. Leadership

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, in reshaping British policy in critical areas of the world, appears to be fully prepared to follow United States leadership in the Far East while seeking American support for British leadership in the Middle East.

Two new policy developments stood out in the 77-year-old statesman's address to Congress yesterday and both bore on this interpretation of his aims.

With respect to the Far East, Churchill endorsed U. S. protection of the Chinese Nationalist island of Formosa in spite of the fact that the previous Labor government in Britain recognized the Communist regime in China and Churchill has continued to do so.

His endorsement was in line with word from his talks with Mr. Truman last week to the effect that Churchill does not intend to permit his government's technical relationship with the Chinese Red administration to interfere with his support of the overall American line of action in the Far East.

While the split between London and Washington over Chinese recognition remains on the books, it has thus been reduced considerably in importance.

For the Middle East, Churchill painted a gloomy picture of Britain's declining power and influence in an area where it once was supremely dominant.

He said he would welcome "token forces" to help guard the Suez Canal and keep it open for world traffic.

His proposition apparently took American officials by surprise.

What the response will be remains to be determined. The proposal will be studied in terms both of U. S. relations with Britain and hopes for promoting a friendly settlement of current differences between Britain and Egypt.

W. O. Reece, 63, Former Hope Resident, Dies

William O. Reece, aged 63, a former resident of Hope, died at his home in Pleasant Plains, Ark., Thursday.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Reece three daughters, Mrs. Joe Gentry, Mrs. Allie Mae Starnes of Hope and Mrs. Roydon Green of Knoxville, Calif., and a son, Donald W. Reece of Waco, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Shover Springs Baptist Church by the Rev. Hollis Purdie of Sheridan, assisted by the Rev. Carlton Roberts. Burial will be in Shover Springs Cemetery.

University Gets $100,000 Grant

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—A $100,000 grant has been made available to the University of Arkansas to study the effects of atomic energy on the state.

The grant was announced here last week by the Rockefeller Foundation, which has been studying the effects of atomic energy on the state.

100 Seagulls and Bomber Collide

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—One of the Air Force's 36 bombers and a squadron of seagulls collided here Saturday, it was disclosed today. Both suffered.

Consolidated Utilities, an Air Corp. estimated damage to leading edge of the bomber at $500.

An estimated 100 dead were found on Lindbergh where the collision occurred. The plane came in for a landing.

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Little Liz

Decision Against 'Token Force' Is Unanimous

Washington, Jan. 18 (UP)—Winston Churchill got an emphatic and unanimous "no" today to his suggestion that American troops help the British defend the Suez Canal Zone against the Egyptians.

The Truman administration members of both parties in Congress, and

U. S. Guards Sabotage of Livestock

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today it is on guard against possible sabotage of the nation's livestock and meat industry.

Meat is such an important part of the American diet that the first thing is an enemy might do to the livestock and meat industry, the department said, would be to try to get animal diseases and bacteria started on farms.

"If foot and mouth disease, rinder pest or foot and mouth disease of ruminants should be allowed to develop undetected, they could menace our livestock industry from coast to coast and from border to border within weeks," the department said in an annual report of its Bureau of Animal Industry.

"In view of the possibility that diseases could be introduced intentionally at any time, the plan of our civilian defense have asked that the bureau also be prepared to meet that emergency if it should arise," the report said.

In carrying out this assignment, the bureau said it has started at the "front lines"—the borders and ports of entry. It said inspection and quarantine efforts have been intensified in regard to animal imports.

A. F. Graft, president of the nation's Eastern Council, said in Philadelphia the import may affect every part of the government. Animal inspectors have been called at Jersey City, N. J., to study the problem.

The department said of its anti-sabotage campaign that it was tightening up checks on imports, and more strictly enforcing the law banning domestic animals or fresh chilled or frozen meat from countries where foot-and-mouth and rinderpest diseases exist.

Other steps now being taken include: Additional veterinarians are being trained to recognize the character and symptoms of serious foreign animal diseases.

Cooperative arrangements have been made with state veterinarians for handling possible disease outbreaks.

Manufacturers of biological products used in combating animal diseases have been reminded that attempts might be made to contaminate their products with disease-causing elements.

Farmers and local veterinarians are being told to be on the alert for unusual symptoms and to promptly report such evidence.

Iran May Abandon Pact With Britain

Tehran, Iran, Jan. 18 (AP)—An Iranian newspaper today denounced the 1867 peace and friendship treaty with Britain as seen to be a "newspaper attack on the British Empire," former premier and a right-hand man of the late Premier Mohammed Mosaddegh.

Fatemi said in his paper Enghelab that the treaty has no validity in the second half of the 20th century.

He termed it "an agreement between wolves and lambs" because it had been "imposed by the strong on the weak."

The British in a note Wednesday rejected Iranian notes to close British consulates in Iran and ended the treaty provision allowing them to maintain con-

New Hudson Cars Now on Display

The Hudson Motor Car Company today announced its new 1952 cars—four distinctive lines, the Hudson Hornet, a new model, the Commodore, the Commander and the Pacemaker. They feature the new Hudson-Aire Hardtop Styling at standard sedan and coupe prices, and will be displayed to the public in Tol-E-Tex Hudson showrooms January 18.

Hudson's exclusive "step down" design permits new streamlining and beauty, with styling which heretofore has been confined to premium priced models.

Hudson introduces new Hudson-Aire Hardtop Styling in its 1952 models. This modern and beautiful hardtop styling is offered for the first time at standard sedan and coupe prices. This type styling which heretofore has been available only on premium priced models, such as Hardtop convertibles, is standard styling on Hudson sedans, coupes and broughams.

New Hudson-Aire Hardtop styling is achieved through a most advanced and unique treatment of bright trim around window areas and posts with roof line trim extending to and blending with the new "sweep-around" rear window. Below the belt line, longer highly polished rib ribs extend from front to rear adding to the car's graceful lines and serving as protective rails for the body panels. New ornamentation and redesign of body trim from front to rear further accentuate the low lines of the '52 Hudson.

Allies Beat Off Three Enemy Raids

8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Jan. 18 (AP)—United Nations forces beat off three light Communist bombardments on the East Coast today, but actively shelled all along the 145 mile front.

All three attacks south of Kumsong were repulsed before dawn on 8th Army communiqué reported. The only other action noted in the communiqué was a 10-minute fight between a U. N. patrol and 50 Communist entrenched in bunkers west of the Munsong Valley on the East Central front.

In the air, 4th air force fighters and fighter-bombers struck deep into North Korea. They destroyed four locomotives and 25 railway cars and on rail lines in 100 places despite harassing attacks by Communist MIG-15 jet fighters.

American Sabrejets screening the slower attack planes intercepted all together more than 200 MIGs north of Sinuiju in "MIG Alley." Brief firing exchanges were reported, but no damage was claimed.

Night bombers and fighters spotted more than 1,100 trucks moving supplies to the Communist front and destroyed more than 100 of them.

It is estimated that each automobile contains about 30 pounds of sulphur.

mines wherever other foreign powers have them.

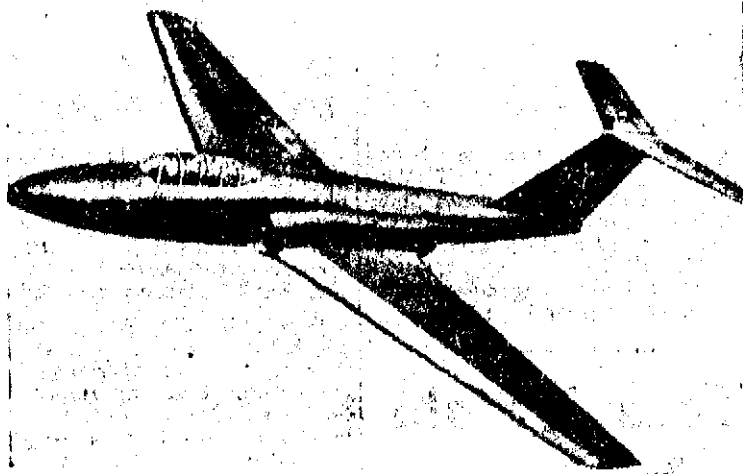

A foreign country spokesman told reporters that Iran will reply to the British note by Saturday.

NEW HUDSON WASP INTRODUCED

Hudson's line of 1952 cars includes a spectacular new addition—the Hudson Wasp—a lower priced running mate to the famous Hudson Hornet. The Wasp is powered by a high-compression, high-output 11-127 six-cylinder engine. It has a 119-inch wheelbase and is highly maneuverable. In addition,

Hudson has the Hudson Hornet, the Commodore, and the Pacemaker series. All have a lower and wider appearance and feature the beauty of Hudson-Aire Hardtop Styling which is offered at standard sedan and coupe prices. Pictured is the Hudson Wasp in Hudson Hollywood styling.

NEW TWIN-JET FOR SOVIET—One of Soviet Russia's newest twin-jet aircraft—a fighter, night fighter or ground attack plane—is depicted in this drawing released in New York by Aviation Age magazine. The publication said the plane, seen in Poland, is powered by two turbojets. Exact designation of the jet is not known.

TO PHILIPPINES—Retired Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, above, has been named by President Truman as new U. S. ambassador to the Philippines.

Spruance, wartime fleet commander in the Pacific, retired in 1948 to Monterey, Cal.

Testifies

Continued from Page One

amum from McMath which purportedly gave Woods authority to okay all Highway Department purchases.

Baker said that the memorandum was prepared in his office about Dec. 1, 1948. He said it had been approved by himself, Gov. McMath, Woods, and then Highway Department Purchasing Agent John K. Brown and Highway Commission Chairman J. B. Lamber.

Brown, now State Purchasing Agent, read the lengthy memorandum which said in part:

"The purchasing agent is instructed to advise anyone making inquiries that the government's office has always instructed him to make purchases from the administration's friends where price and quality are equal."

"X X That Mr. Woods must select the dealer and approve all equipment purchases and there has been no equipment purchased by this department without the governor's office or some representative there from approving such purchases."

In another phase of questioning, Brown said that he ordered 30 new automobiles from a manufacturer in 1950 because of the possibility that Korean fighting would flare into a world war and equipment would not be available.

The automobiles subsequently were transferred to private dealers with no profit or loss to the state.

Decision

Continued from Page One

true victory in Korea a mutually beneficial arrangement for trading American steel and British tin and a joint effort to streamline the cumbersome machinery of the Atlantic Pact organization.

The 77-year-old Briton also won bipartisan cheers from Congress with his ringing declaration that his countrymen will solve their own economic troubles and seek U. S. aid only for recruitment in the "common cause."

His oratorical prowess proved completely inadequate, however, to persuade Congress or the administration that the United States should get mixed up militarily in Britain's Middle Eastern troubles.

High officials were surprised and dismayed that Churchill even should have raised the question. They said American military intervention in the strife-torn Suez Canal Zone at this time would wreck current U. S. diplomatic efforts to work out a peaceful settlement of the dispute, would aggravate Britain's position, and would damage American prestige throughout the touchy Arab world.

Diplomatic officials stressed that the United States has no legal right to "invade" the Canal Zone in which British troops are stationed under a 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Military officials said the joint chiefs of staff are opposed to extending American military responsibilities into the Middle East where Britain historically has taken the lead. The joint chiefs were said to feel that this country's global commitments already are uncomfortably extended.

Egypt

Continued from Page One

seriously the security of the Middle East.

An official spokesman for Foreign Minister Salah El Din Pasha, head of the U. N. delegation, said that Egypt would consider the sending of the Western troops a "hostile act" which might lead to "serious consequences."

"If Churchill's invitation is carried out, we might bring the issue before the Security Council," the spokesman, Mahmoud Azmi Bey, added. He also said Egypt would consider such an action sufficient reason to invoke the Arab defense pact.

The pact, signed about two years ago, provides for mutual assistance of all Arab states in the event of outside aggression.

Motive Sought of Mother Who Killed Four

Ft. Knox, Ky., Jan. 18 (UP)—FBI agents hoped to question an Army officer's wife today to find out why and evidently devoted mother should have executed her four children by cutting their throats with a carving knife.

Medical officers said early today that Mrs. Joseph D. Coonan should be able to talk sometime today or tomorrow. They said she was still "in a very shocked state" after stabbing herself in the throat and swallowing a small dose of disinfectant in a futile attempt at suicide.

Meanwhile, the FBI waited for U. S. marshal's office to serve a complaint warrant, charging Mrs. Coonan with murder. Until she is able to make a statement, however, police said the bizarre slaying will remain a mass of twisted threads.

This much is known: Her husband, 29-year-old Lt. Joseph D. Coonan, returned to his family quarters on the post Wednesday night to find his wife, Louis, unconscious in the bathroom. Then, in their bedroom, he found his four children—all dead with slashed throats.

The victims were Constance L., 4; Joseph P., Jr., 2; Claire, 1; and Patricia Marie, four and one-half months.

An executive officer of an armored reconnaissance company, Lieutenant Coonan said he can not explain why his wife evidently ran amok. Doctors have blocked further questioning of the officer until he recuperates from shock.

Pappy Ponder All Set for TV Show

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—George Leonard Ponder of Monticello, Ark., father of new quadruplets, arrived here today with the air of a man who's sitting on top of the world.

Clad in a new suit, pockets bulging with cigars, the unemployed farmer stepped from an American Airlines plane at La Guardia Field and told newsmen between puffs on a cigar.

"It was the first time she ever made me really happy, having four at once. I feel all right. So does my wife. She sure surprised me. She surprised all of us."

Then his congressman spoke up. Said Rep. Tackett (D-Ark.): "It's the greatest event in Pike county since they discovered a diamond mine there."

"I'm trying to do all I can to get Pappy set up financially. He sure needs the money."

"I'm going to present him to Congress to prove to them that he's a better man than anyone in Congress."

But before he goes to Washington, the 41-year-old father of 12 children will appear on NBC's Television show, "We The People," tonight.

Ponder's quadruplets were delivered Monday of his 36-year-old wife, Haggia, in their bathroom home by Dr. M.D. Duncan, who also came along on the trip to New York, and two women neighbors.

Said the doctor: "I felt pretty nervous when the third baby came along. I felt much better after the fourth. I only expected to find but two."

A group of businessmen in Texarkana, Ark., gave Ponder new clothes and luggage.

He also produced three uncut diamonds in a pill bottle, and said simply that he found them. They produced diamonds in Arkansas.

The congressman admitted he had an unusual interest in constituent Ponder.

"The new Ponder babies will eventually become Democrats," he said. "No Republicans down there."

Anti-Long Group Backing Judge Kennon

New Orleans, Jan. 18 (AP)—Six anti-Longites in Tuesday's voting, including Judge Robert F. Kennon for the Feb. 19 run-off.

The combined total of the six anti-Longites in Tuesday's voting, including Kennon's 154,812 votes, was 547,548 of the record 706,385 votes cast in 1952 of the state's 212 precincts.

Arranged against Spauld, who received 154,833 votes, were Kennon; Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans, who polled 136,663 votes; James McLeane, Alexandria, cattleman with 109,942; Ot. Gov. William Dodd with 84,527; Dudley LeBlanc, former patent medicine (Meadow) manufacturer, with 56,922; and Lucille May Grace, first woman to run for governor of the state, with 56,770 votes.

Unheard from yet were Kermit Parker, New Orleans pharmacist and the first Negro since Reconstruction days to seek the governorship, who pulled 5,158 votes; and Cliff Liles of Lake Charles, only candidate advocating legalized gambling, who received 1,422 Liles said he would announce late today whom he will back.

Also backing Kennon in the run-

Donations to Mine Victims Is $37,440

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18 (AP)—Donations to Gov. Stevenson's West Frankfort mine disaster relief fund totaled $37,440, with contributions from all sections of the country.

The funds will be distributed to families of the 119 victims of the coal mine explosion last Dec. 21.

Three quarters of U. S. imports of Cobalt come from the Belgian Congo.

off was Mayor De Gesspeys Morrison of New Orleans, who, with Sen. Russell Long, son of the late Huey P. Long, backed Boggs in the first primary.

Sen. Long was silent on whether he would take sides in the second race. Sen. Long split with his uncle, Gov. Long, in the race.

Nomination in a Democratic primary virtually means election in this state.

Safer Cough Relief

When new drugs or old fail to stop your cough or chest cold don't delay. Creomulsion contains only safe, helpful, proven ingredients and no narcotics to disturb nature's process. It goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial membranes. Guaranteed to please you or drugist refunds money. Creomulsion has stood the test of many millions of users.

CREOMULSION relieves Coughs, Chest Colds, Acute Bronchitis

NEW THROUGH SERVICE

Effective Sunday, January 20

Via SHREVEPORT (Trains 3 and 4) to

BEAUMONT-PORT ARTHUR-LAKE CHARLES

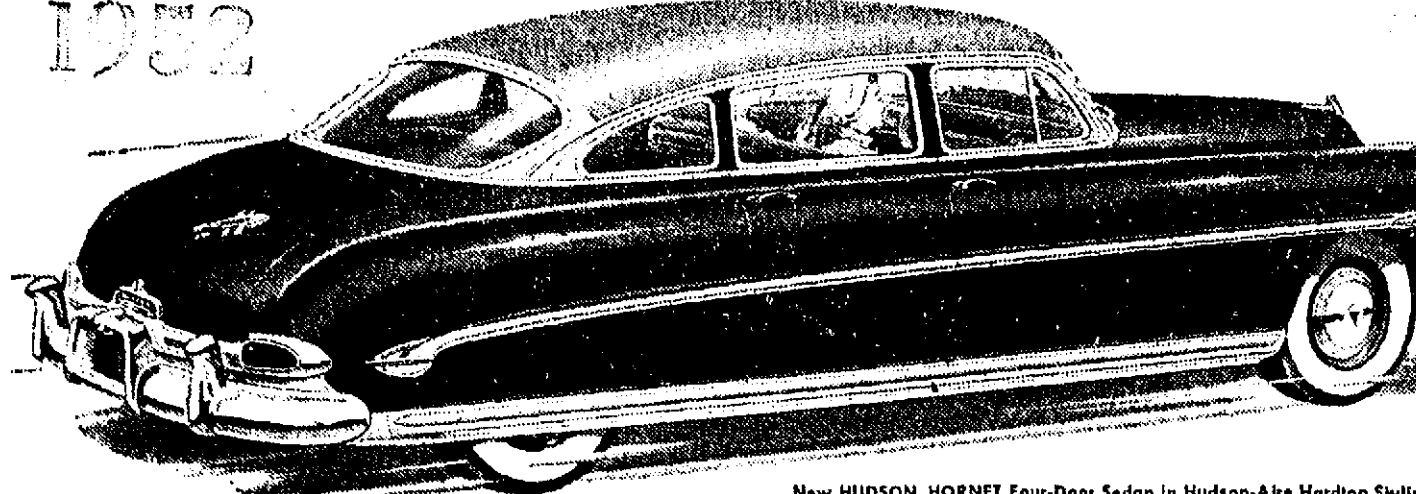

Convenient Connections Via S. P. and Mo. Pac. at Beaumont for

HOUSTON - SAN ANTONIO - EL PASO

DEPOT TICKET OFFICE
TELEPHONE 7-2651

A FABULOUS NEW HUDSON HORNET IS HERE

New HUDSON HORNET Four-Door Sedan in Hudson-Aire Hardtop Styling

with a new, lower-priced running mate, the spectacular HUDSON WASP

These brilliant new cars with a stunning new COMMODORE and a thrifty new PACEMAKER make the most exciting array of values in all Hudson history!

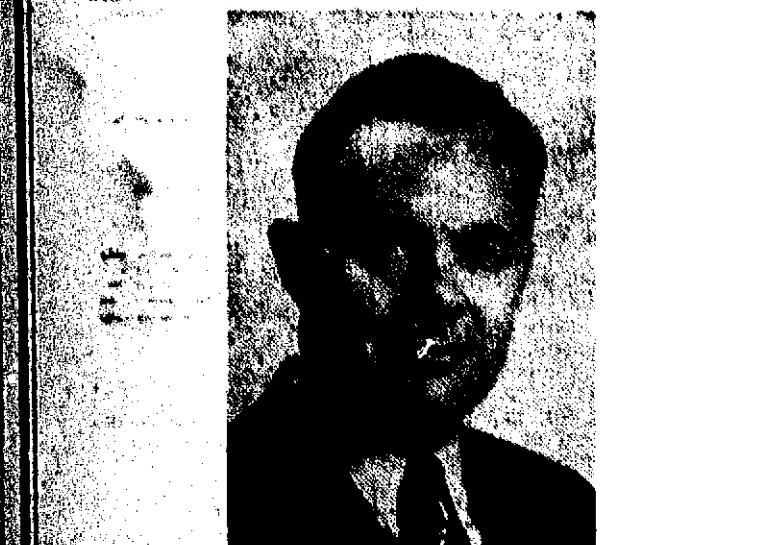

Standard trim and other specifications and accessories subject to change without notice.

Hudson-Aire Hardtop Styling at standard sedan and coupe prices

TOL-E-TEX COMPANY INC.

EAST THIRD STREET

HOPE, ARKANSAS

Rev. Lorne F. Fox

The Fox Evangelist Party Returns for Special Service at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle Sunday, January 20

At the Morning and Evening Services Hear this Internationally known Evangelist. Unique feature of the Evening Service will be a musical Concert. Subject of the evening, "Inside the Pearly Gates."

Sunday School 9:45 a. m.
Radio Bible Class (KKAR) 10:00 a. m.
Morning Worship Service 11:00 a. m.
Evening Service 7:30 p. m.

O. M. Montgomery, Pastor

Math's 1950 campaign headquarters was accepting the money. The purchasing agent named some who hadn't offered funds.

SOCIETY

Phone 7-3431 Between 8 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Calendar

Saturday, January 19
The Melody Mads will meet Saturday, at 10 a. m. with Sonia Somerville, 723 South Elm.

Sunday, January 20
There will be Open House Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. at the Country Club to meet the new officers of the club and their wives.

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church, will hold a rummage sale in front of the New Theatre building on South Elm Saturday, Jan. 19.

Monday, January 21
The Hempstead Teachers Association will meet Monday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Junior High School.

Monday, January 21
The Junior G. A. S. of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday Jan. 21, at 4 o'clock at the home of the counselor, Mrs. Chas. F. Reynerson, 1510 South Main, for a missionary program and social.

The Women of the First Presbyterian Church will meet Monday afternoon, Jan. 21, at 2:30.

Tuesday, January 22
The Cosmopolitan Club will meet at the home of Mrs. R. L. Broach with Mrs. Geo. Newborn as co-hostess Tuesday, Jan. 22, at 7:45.

Thursday, January 24
Ladies bridge luncheon will be held at the Country Club Thursday, Jan. 24. Hostesses will be Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

Notice

Methodist Intermediates who plan to skate tonight are requested to meet at the church at 6:15.

Miss Bettie Davis Weds
Pfc. Kenneth Harris

The marriage of Miss Bettie Inez Davis and Pfc. Kenneth B. Harris was solemnized Wednesday, Dec. 26, at 2 o'clock in the First Methodist Church, Nashville, with the Reverend George Meyers officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Davis of Hot Springs. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Harris of McCaskill.

Miss Rita Caplinger of DeQueen and James O. Harris, Jr., brother of the groom, were the couple's only attendants.

Pfc. Harris is stationed at Ft.

San Houston, Texas, with the Air Force.

Bedcaw Club Meets

January 17
The Bedcaw Club met Thursday afternoon, Jan. 17, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Elbert May with Mrs. Will Munn as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Munn, with the members repeating the Lord's Prayer. After the business session, a card of thanks for Christmas remembrances from members was read. Letters from old classmates in school were also read. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in doing needlework.

The hostesses served lovely sandwiches, cookies, and coffee to twenty members and one guest Mrs. Jerome Drake.

Hospital Notes

Josephine
Admitted: Baby Sandra Watterson, Hope, Mrs. L. J. McCoy, Patmos, Mrs. Annie McGill, Fulton. Discharged: Miss Jehnnie Elliott, Hope, Mrs. J. A. Stewart, Ozan.

Julia Chester

Admitted: Larry Hooten, Hope, Mrs. E. S. Burke, Hope, Mrs. W. S. Oliver, Hope, Lindy Brannan, Rt. 2, Hope, Olive W. Harrington, Rt. 1, Hope.

Discharged: Floyd T. Munn, of Rosston, Mrs. George Ineichen, of University City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Oliver, Hope announce the arrival of a son on Jan. 18, 1952.

Clubs

Baker H D

The Baker Home Demonstration Club held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Orville Steadman, Friday evening at 7:30.

The meeting was opened by the vice-president, Mrs. J. L. McCullough. The American creed was repeated and the group sang "Dump All Your Troubles."

The devotionals was given by the hostess. The group repeated the Lord's Prayer. Roll call was answered by "What Kind of Pie I Like Best" and each gave the recipe. The minutes of the last meeting were read, treasury report given and old and new business discussed.

During the business session, plans were made to sponsor a candy sale, Jan. 19 for the benefit of the March of Dimes campaign.

The following Home Demonstration Club leaders were appointed for the year: Garden and Orchard Mrs. J. B. Hargis, Poultry, Mrs. Roy Baker, Clothing Mrs. T. B.

Says Ike Only Man That Can Bring Peace

San Francisco, Jan. 18 (AP)—Sen. Lodge (Mass.) offered Senator Dwight D. Eisenhower to the Republicans today as the one presidential candidate "who could bring the world durable peace."

Lodge took sharp, if indirect, issue with Taft supporters who said the party would be risking its political future if it nominated a "glamour candidate" in Chicago next July. Lodge is national chairman of the GOP Eisenhower-for-President Committee.

David S. Ingalls, campaign manager for Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft, said the party should not "select a good-looking mortician to preside over its death as a political organization. He urged the GOP National Committee, in a speech last night, to aid in the nomination of a "militant Republican" such as Taft.

This obvious barb at Eisenhower drew from Lodge the declaration in a prepared address:

"The American people believe in Dwight Eisenhower because they see in him a leader—and a leader who can do the most to bring about a durable peace."

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota puts in his bid for presidential nominating support at a committee dinner tonight.

California's Gov. Earl Warren made his appeal at yesterday's opening luncheon.

Lodge told National Committee members the Republicans can't win in November unless they attract some Democratic votes. He Fenwick, Foods and Nutrition, Mrs. Dale Tommemaker, Food Preservation, Mrs. Orville Steadman, Child Development and Family Life, Mrs. Grady Browning, Home Industry, Mrs. J. L. McCullough, Home Management, Mrs. W. M. Hargis, Home Grounds, Mrs. Clinton Crawford, Recreation, Mrs. J. M. White, Health and Safety Mrs. Wier Owens.

The surprise package was won by Mrs. W. M. Hargis. Mrs. White directed the recreation after which refreshments were served to ten members, three new members, Mrs. Gus Foster, Mrs. M. S. Willis, and Mrs. Charlie Hoffman, and three visitors, Miss Shirley Ann White, Miss Catherine Steadman, and Master Junior Hargis.

The February meeting will be with Mrs. W. M. Hargis. The demonstration will be Personal Cleanliness and Correct Posture.

Evening Shade

Mrs. Joe Martin was hostess to the Evening Shade Home Demonstration Club on Thursday, Jan. 13 at her home on Route 1, Hope.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Frank Smith, with the prayer and devotionals given by Mrs. Martin. The song of the month was sung by the group and old business was taken care of.

New business consisted of a donation to the March of Dimes. The members had a discussion on milk and milk utensils. A talk on "Undulant Fever" was given by Mrs. Smith.

Refreshments were served to the eight members present. Mrs. George Anderson was the winner of the door prize. The club adjourned to meet again next month at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith and all members are urged to be present and bring a new member with them.

Rialto • STARTS SUNDAY

THE FUNNIEST, WACKIEST RANCH IN ALL TEXAS!

"THE LADY FROM TEXAS"

Color by TECHNICOLOR
HOWARD DUFF
MONA FREEMAN
JOSEPHINE HULL

Ho-Hum, Another Hollywood Divorce

Santa Monica Calif., Jan. 16.—Movie actress Gene Tierney has sued for a divorce from dress designer Oleg Cassini. She alleges cruelty and asks for custody of their two children, Daria, 8, and Christina, 3.

The complaint, filed yesterday, does not request alimony, but it states that the couple intend to work out a property settlement.

Samuel I. Earehas, the actress' attorney, said a clause concerning the pending settlement of child support and "other pecuniary considerations" was inserted to protect her rights in case settlement is not reached with Cassini, whom she married 10 years ago.

DISTANT DRUMS

Color by TECHNICOLOR
starring GARY COOPER
with MARI ALDON

BLADE IN HIS HAND—BLOOD IN HIS EYE—CAPTAIN WYATT, SWAMP FIGHTER!

TWO BIG DAYS

SAENGER

STARTS SUNDAY

Starts Sunday at the Saenger

GARY COOPER and Richard Webb spy on the enemy in a scene from "Distant Drums," the United States Pictures Production in color by Technicolor, presented by Warner Bros. The film opens Sunday in the Saenger Theater.

Comedy, 'Lady From Texas' Opens Sunday at Rialto

HOWARD DUFF and MONA FREEMAN in a scene from Universal-International's "THE LADY FROM TEXAS" in color by Technicolor.

said Eisenhower would do that. Lodge said he couldn't speak for Eisenhower, but he pictured the general as the popular choice to "throw the rascals out" of Washington.

Lodge criticized the Truman administration for failing to get a vote from Congress before American entry into the Korean War and for failing to order full mobilization of industry and manpower after that war started.

Lodge pictured Eisenhower as somewhere between the unfettered power of concentrated wealth and unbridled power of statism of partisan interests on domestic policies.

But he said "the organization of a durable peace is the prime challenge confronting America and Dwight Eisenhower is the leader to meet the challenge."

Ingalls told the committee the party ought not to "buy a pig in a poke" in its nominee. He has said Eisenhower isn't a candidate and won't be able to speak out on issues.

Cuy. Gabrielson, the party's national chairman, called for unity among Republicans.

Gabrielson himself got an almost unanimous endorsement of the committee members, in the face of a telegraphed demand by Rep. George Meader (R-Mich.) that he be tossed out of office because of his connections with an RFC loan case.

The Assyrians used bank checks of baked clay in the 9th Century B. C.

'Distant Drums' Opens Sunday at the Saenger

"Distant Drums," the United States Pictures Production presented by Warner Bros., promises to be one of the most unusual adventure epics brought to the screen in recent years, according to advance reports.

Besides unfolding a graphic description of the 7-year Seminole Indian Wars of 1810, "Distant Drums," filmed on location in Florida Everglades, is set in the Florida Everglades with never before shown sequences involving nature's wild life in action.

Gary Cooper, rugged hero of filmdom's top outdoor dramas, portrays an American guerrilla assigned to put down the rebellion instigated by Seminole chieftain Ocala.

With the aid of his own hand-picked troop of hardy frontiersmen, Cooper manages to destroy Ocala's arsenal at Fort San Marco.

Cooper's retelling, pursuing Cooper and his band through 150 miles of the fearsome Everglades, provides the suspenseful unrolling of "Distant Drums."

Mari Aldon, beautiful Hollywood newcomer who debuted in "The Tanks Are Coming," furnishes the romance, while Richard Webb, Roy Teal and Arthur Hountant have featured roles in "Distant Drums," directed by Raoul Walsh.

The film opens Sunday at the Saenger theater.

West Germans to Seek Loan From U. S.

Bonn, Germany, Jan. 18 (AP)—The West German government plans to ask the United States for a big loan—probably several hundred million dollars—to help put German troops into the field with the proposed European army, Allied officials said today.

A formal request for the loan will be submitted to Washington when a "peace contract," now under negotiation, is signed with the three Western occupation powers—France, Britain and the U. S.—next spring, the officials said.

This "peace contract" will flash a green light for the Germans to begin inside the proposed unified European defense force and will return to them almost full control of their own affairs.

The Allied officials gave this picture of the loan request shaping up.

The Germans will contend they alone cannot finance formation of new armed force from scratch after seven years of Allied demilitarization programs.

In addition, the Germans expect the United States to provide the bulk of military equipment—including tanks, artillery and planes needed by 12 divisions plus the tactical air force they plan to organize.

"Peace contract" talks, the Germans already have agreed to continue to pay part of the cost of keeping Allied occupation troops on the ground.

The party was headed by Chilean Army Capt. Rene Galdames, instructor of mountain climbing troops.

DOROTHY DIX

Boys Aren't Serious

Dear Miss Dix: I'm so confused. It seems all the boys I date are playboys. Their lives are just one big party. They date a girl a few times, then never get in touch with her again. Some people say most college boys are like that. Are they? I'm rather an attractive girl with a good personality, dress well and am a good dancer. Boys seem to enjoy my company, but don't come back. They don't seem to want to settle down.

Answer: The fact that a young man, especially a college boy, does not act in too much of a rush to marry and settle down doesn't prove he's a "playboy" in the complimentary sense of the word. All it indicates is that he's a normal teen-ager seeking normal fun.

The trouble is in your attitude. If you try to pin a young man down to a discussion of marriage when he'd much rather enjoy a dance or a set of tennis, he'll turn and run like mad. Also, perhaps you're too absorbed in your own charms to acknowledge those of your male companions. Boys like to be admired and looked up to, remember. They resent the constant demands of a vain female.

Answer: Life holds few problems more hopeless than that of a drinker who is perfectly satisfied with his condition. If a man wants to throw off the shackles of alcoholism, there are agencies to render every assistance, but the sot who wallows in his degradation is beyond help.

Answer: Life holds few problems more hopeless than that of a drinker who is perfectly satisfied with his condition. If a man wants to throw off the shackles of alcoholism, there are agencies to render every assistance, but the sot who wallows in his degradation is beyond help.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

erty you have should be divided equally among your children. Since your son would have to pay rent wherever he lived, he is certainly doing you no favor by paying it for you. In fact, renting to an outsider would probably yield a larger income in these days of high rents. Don't let him sway your opinion; make a will (that's a legal formality everyone with even a small piece of property should observe), but provide for equal distribution of whatever you leave.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been married only six weeks. My husband and I are very happy from Monday to Friday. On Friday he begins drinking and keeps it up for the week end. I hate to see people get drunk, and his condition is causing me considerable distress.

Answer: Life holds few problems more hopeless than that of a drinker who is perfectly satisfied with his condition. If a man wants to throw off the shackles of alcoholism, there are agencies to render every assistance, but the sot who wallows in his degradation is beyond help.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He and his wife live with us though they are both working and can afford a home of their own. I do most all the work for them with no appreciation at all. When my husband and I ask them to find a place they just laugh at us.

Answer: After raising a large family, I'm old and tired. My children are all married, with homes of their own, except one boy. He

News of the CHURCHES

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Father A. G. Dunleavy, Pastor
 8:15 Catechism classes for grade school and high school students.
 10:30 a.m. Holy Sacrifice of the Mass followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.
 7 p.m. Discipleship Club meets at the Parish Hall.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

North Main at West Ave. D.
 Wm. P. Hardegree, Minister
 9:45 Sunday School. We have a new teacher.
 10:30 a.m. Morning Worship. Communion and Sermon. The special service will be an anthem by the choir. "Make A Joyful Noise Unto the Lord."

HOPE GOSPEL TABERNACLE

6 p.m. Social hour, refreshments and lesson for the Christian Youth Fellowship.
 7:30 p.m. Youth choir rehearsal.
 7:30 p.m. Evening Worship. Communion and Sermon. The special service will be by the combined youth and adult choirs.
 Wednesday
 7 p.m. There will be a Family Night in Fellowship Hall under the sponsorship of the Christian Youth Fellowship. W. L. Thompson, R. L. Ponder and J. A. Davis are in charge of the arrangements for the service and program.
 Thursday
 7:30 p.m. Church Rehearsal.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

East Second Street
 Rev. L. T. Lawrence, Pastor
 Sunday
 10:30 Sunday School. James H. Miller, Supt.
 11:30 a.m. Morning Worship. This will be a Deacon Who Gave His All. Special music will be an anthem by the choir. "Shepherd, Guide Us" by Holton.
 5 p.m. Vesper Worship. Sermon subject "He Came Unto His Own."

Special music "He Keeps Me Singing."
 6 p.m. P. Y. F. Supper will be served. Miss Sandra Robbins will have charge of the program.
 Monday
 2:30 Women of The Church will meet.
 7:30 p.m. Deacons Meeting.
 7 p.m. Choir Practice.
 Wednesday
 7:30 p.m. Mid-Week Services. Rev. Andrew Allison, former missionary to China will speak at this service.
 Thursday
 The Men of The Church will have a Dinner at the Church at 7 p.m. This is their regular monthly meeting.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

West Second at Pine
 V. O. Keeley, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Church School
 Mr. J. I. Liebong will teach the Century Bible Class.
 10:55 Morning Worship
 Mr. Lyle Brown will be our Guest Speaker. Topic, "Freedom." Several laymen in the church will have charge of our morning and evening worship services during the absence of Bro. Keeley, who is assisting in the Methodist Evangelistic Mission at Midland Heights Methodist Church in Fort Smith, Ark.
 5:30 p.m. Intermediate MYF
 5:30 Senior MYF
 7:30 Evening Worship
 Mr. John P. Vessey will be our Guest Speaker
 Wednesday
 7:30 Regular Weekly choir practice.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

S. A. Whitlow, Pastor
 Sunday
 9:30 Sunday School. H. E. Thrash, Superintendent.
 10:30 Morning Worship with sermon by the pastor.
 6:30 p.m. Training Union. J. T. Rowden, Director.
 7:30 Evening Worship, with sermon by the pastor.
 Monday
 4 p.m. Sunbeams
 4 Intermediate G. A. S.
 4 Junior G. A. S. will meet at the home of the counselor, Mrs. F. Reynerson, 1510 South Main for a missionary program and social.
 7 Brotherhood Meeting, Supper Meeting.
 Wednesday
 6:35 Sunday School Officers and Teachers Meeting.
 7:30 Fellowship Hour. The Mid-week Worship for the whole family.
 2 Choir Rehearsal.
 Thursday — Visitation Day

HOPE GOSPEL TABERNACLE

North Main Street
 O. M. Montgomery, Pastor
 Sunday
 9:45 Sunday School
 10:30 Radio Bible Class.
 Broadcast over KNAR, O. M. Montgomery, teacher.
 Morning Worship 11 a.m. Sermon by Rev. Lorne F. Fox.
 The Hope Gospel Tabernacle will have special guests for the Morning Worship Service and the Evening Evangelistic Service. The Fox Evangelistic party will be with us rendering sermons in music and in the preaching of the word.
 Junior and Senior Christ Ambassador Services 6:15 p.m. William Morton, president.
 7:30 Evangelistic Service. Sermon by Rev. Lorne F. Fox. Subject, "Inside the Pearly Gates."
 Monday
 The Sectional Fellowship Meeting will be held in the First Assembly of God in Texarkana, with services in the afternoon at 2:30.
 Tuesday
 4:15 Christian Service Brigade and evening at 7:30 p.m.
 7:30 Rudiments of music class.
 Thursday
 7:30 p.m. Mid-Week Services.

FIRST PENTECOSTAL

Fourth and Ferguson Streets
 Rev. H. P. Hudspeth, Pastor
 The revival which is now in progress will continue next week. Rev. Ernest Jolly of Jonesboro, is the evangelist. The public is cordially invited to these services.
 Sunday
 9:45 a.m. Sunday School, C. J. Rowe, Supt.
 11 Morning Worship
 6:30 p.m. Pentecostal Conquerors Hour.
 Seniors, Mrs. Glendean Lively, leader.
 Juniors, Mrs. Lawrence Keys in charge.
 Beginners, Mrs. Pauline Stroud in charge.
 7:30 p.m. Revival Service
 Thursday
 2 p.m. Ladies Prayer Meeting.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Walnut Street
 A. T. Oliver, Minister
 9:45 Bible Study
 10:45 Preaching
 11:45 Communion
 6 p.m. Young People's Study.
 7 Evening Worship
 Tuesday
 2 Ladies Bible Study
 Wednesday
 7:30 Bible Study
 A welcome awaits you at all services.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Little Rock, Jan. 17 (AP) — Arkansas today completed a week's vacation from winter's icy temperatures and the U. S. Weather Bureau has forecast more warmth to come.
 The forecaster said the temperature would rise under cloudy skies today, tonight and tomorrow. A few scattered showers will fall in the east and south portions.
 Yesterday's high temperature was 76 degrees at Pine Bluff and Ozark. The warm weather began on Jan. 10, when a reading of 64 degrees was recorded.
 The temperature is expected to begin a gradual decline Friday night.

Arkansas Has 'Spring' Week

San Francisco, Jan. 17 (AP) — Gov. Earl Warren of California today told Republicans bluntly today they cannot "turn the clock back" and expect to win this year's presidential election.

Warren, an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, opened the Republicans' National Committee meeting with a luncheon speech. He outlined "liberal" platform planks he said his party must adopt if it expects to get a majority in the November election.

"I am convinced the American people are not Socialists and will not tolerate Socialistic government, but they definitely are committed to social progress," Warren declared in a prepared address.

"Any party which turns its back

LIGHT-HEADED LADY—In his London studio, sculptor Arthur Fleischmann puts the finishing touches to his "Symbol of Light," carved from the largest block of transparent plastic ever manufactured. The three-foot-high head will be installed in the new building of a Dutch electric light bulb company to mark its 60th anniversary.

Both Parties Agree Against Tax Increase

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP) — Influential Democrats agreed with Republicans today that a fourth post-Korean tax boost is virtually an impossibility in this election year.

At least one important Democrat expressed doubt that Congress would even go through the formality of holding hearings on President Truman's request for another five billion dollars in taxes.
 By contrast, the outlook was bright for extension of the Defense Production Act, the basis for price, production and credit controls which was the other headline in the President's annual economic report sent to Congress yesterday.

Even here, it seemed likely the President would have to settle for a one-year extension instead of two, and that the law might not be tightened up in the ways he recommended.

In the face of adverse statements by leading tax legislators of his own party in recent weeks, there was considerable surprise on Capitol Hill that Mr. Truman even asked for a new tax program.

His recommendation, yet to be detailed in the budget or a special message, called for an additional load of around five billion dollars. He said this could be obtained "by eliminating loopholes and special privileges, and by some tax rate increases."

Rep. Doughton (D-NC), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation, observed that there seems to be a strong sentiment around the country against any further tax increases at this time.

Would he hold hearings on the request? The chairman told reporters that decision would be put up to the committee at the appropriate time, after the President explained just what rats he thought should be raised and what loopholes closed.

Rep. Mills (D-Ark), a leader among ways and means Democrats, said he hardly sees how the committee could decline to hear Secretary of the Treasury Snyder formally present any administration tax program. But he said he doubts very much whether this would be followed by any general public hearings.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky), chairman of the banking committee which will handle the proposed extension of the Defense Production Act, said it would be "tragic" to allow controls to expire next June 30, as presently scheduled.

He said he does not expect any serious effort to scuttle the controls, but predicted the administration is in for a hard fight on the amendments Mr. Truman seeks.

Warren made no mention of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, another GOP presidential candidate. But it was obvious his remarks were directed primarily toward national committee members who are backing the Ohioan's bid for the nomination.

Taft has stood for many "social progress" measures but he generally is accused by most of his critics of representing the so-called conservative wing of the party.
 Warren's address keyed to a session at which Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson was scheduled to report on Republican prospects for the November election.

David S. Ingalls, national chairman of the Taft-for-President committee, will present the Ohioan's case at a dinner tonight.

Warren, the 1948 vice presidential nominee, said he believes in trying to carry out party platforms between elections.

"I suggest we make it crystal clear to the American people that the things we advocated for their welfare in the platform are still party concerns and will continue to be so—that we do not intend to turn the clock back—that we are not willing to have present-day inequalities frozen into American life," the California governor said.

He said he doesn't go along with the theory that the people will vote for a change in government "for the sake of change itself."

"They want us to present a program that will make them want to register and vote Republican," he said. "We must give them a practical demonstration that we are interested in a return to the so-called comfortable past of by-gone days, but that, on the contrary, the party is a dynamic, forward-looking party, streamlined for the problems of the day."

The Negro Community

By Helen Turner
 Phone 7-4474
 Or bring items to Miss Turner at Hicks Funeral Home

LONOKE BAPTIST

Rev. F. K. Powell, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Sunday School
 11:00 a.m. Morning worship
 6 p.m. B. T. U.
 7:30 p.m. evening worship.

GARRETT CHAPEL BAPTIST

Rev. F. R. Williams, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Sunday school
 11 a.m. Morning worship
 6 p.m. B. T. U.
 7:30 p.m. evening worship.

RISEING STAR BAPTIST

Rev. W. M. Erby, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Sunday school.
 11 a.m. morning worship.
 6:00 p.m. B. T. U.
 7:30 p.m. evening worship.

BEEBEE MEMORIAL C. M. E.

Rev. T. J. Rhone, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Sunday school.
 11 a.m. morning worship.
 6:00 p.m. Epworth League
 7:30 p.m. evening worship.

THE CHURCH OF GOD

Rev. G. W. Dorah, Pastor
 9:30 a.m. Sunday School
 11:15 a.m. morning worship.
 6:30 p.m. W. P. W.
 7:30 p.m. evening worship

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. G. Paschal, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Sunday school.
 11 a.m. morning worship.
 6:00 p.m. A. C. E. L.
 7:30 p.m. evening worship.

CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST

Eld. C. N. Dennis, Pastor
 9:45 a.m. Sunday school
 11:15 a.m. morning worship.
 6:30 p.m. Y. P. W. W.
 8 p.m. Evening Worship.

MT. ZION C. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. I. M. Manning
 9:45 a.m. Sunday school
 11 a.m. morning worship
 6:00 p.m. Epworth League.
 7:30 p.m. Evening worship

on social progress will be repudiated by the people.

Warren made no mention of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, another GOP presidential candidate. But it was obvious his remarks were directed primarily toward national committee members who are backing the Ohioan's bid for the nomination.

Taft has stood for many "social progress" measures but he generally is accused by most of his critics of representing the so-called conservative wing of the party.
 Warren's address keyed to a session at which Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson was scheduled to report on Republican prospects for the November election.

David S. Ingalls, national chairman of the Taft-for-President committee, will present the Ohioan's case at a dinner tonight.

Warren, the 1948 vice presidential nominee, said he believes in trying to carry out party platforms between elections.

"I suggest we make it crystal clear to the American people that the things we advocated for their welfare in the platform are still party concerns and will continue to be so—that we do not intend to turn the clock back—that we are not willing to have present-day inequalities frozen into American life," the California governor said.

He said he doesn't go along with the theory that the people will vote for a change in government "for the sake of change itself."

"They want us to present a program that will make them want to register and vote Republican," he said. "We must give them a practical demonstration that we are interested in a return to the so-called comfortable past of by-gone days, but that, on the contrary, the party is a dynamic, forward-looking party, streamlined for the problems of the day."

This Church Page Is Published Weekly With the Hope that More People Will Go to Church

GOD'S FIRST TEMPLES

You In The Church...
 The Church In You
 Turn a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH to be faithful to a Churchman.

Truly Could be the Trees.

"I think that I shall never see, A poem lovely as a Tree." Surely the inspired poet said it all. Though it be whispered through the stately pine, or murmured by the dwarfed oak of the windy plains... God eternally speaks to us. Beneath their reclining boughs or among their rugged trunks, God directs the affairs of His world through the ministry of His servants. Attend His Temples of Worship.

Sponsored By Local Business Firms Who Believe We Should Attend Religious Services Regularly.

Hopo Basket Co.

Saenger & Rialto Theatros

William M. Duckett

Bruner-Ivory Handle Co.

Citizens National Bank

W. Shanhouse Sons, Inc.

The Greening Insurance Agency and Realty Co.

Young Chevrolet Co.

Dial 7-2354

Norman Moore

Distributor Cities Service Products

Hope Sign & Neon Service

J. C. Penney Co.

Gunter Lumber Co.

Your Friendly Texaco Dealers

David Frith Esso Service Station

300 E. 3rd Dial 7-4311

Owen's Dept. Stores

"We Clothe the Family for Less"

Graydon Anthony Lumber Co.

The First National Bank

Crescent Drug Store

E. J. Whitman

Distributor Gulf Refining Co. Products

J. C. Atchley & Co.

New Chevrolet on Display at Young's

A brilliant array of smart, new colors, a richness in passenger compartments never before achieved in the low-price field, an easier ride and reader power response headline an impressive list of advances in the 1952 Chevrolets.

Distinguished in styling and performance, the new Chevrolets meet in every respect the exacting standards that have won the company its dominating position in the automobile industry. In 1951 Chevrolet sold more cars than any other make for the twelfth consecutive year.

Specifically, the new models on display at Young Chevrolet Co. tomorrow (January 19) offer:

Greater comfort through radically re-engineered power mounting and a re-design of shock absorbers.

Improved performance under extreme operating conditions through refinements in carburetion.

A wide variety of solid and two-tone color exteriors combined with harmonizing interior fabrics that give the customer an amazing 123 choices when he buys a Chevrolet.

The models to be shown here are representative of eleven body types comprising the Chevrolet passenger car line for 1952. Again this year, the company will produce two series, the Special and De Luxe. Ranging from the ultra-practical business coupe to the swank Bel Air, the line affords an unusually complete assortment in bodies, appointments and accessories.

Liquor Advertising Band Is Sought

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—A bill that would ban broadcasting of whisky advertising over radio and television—but not beer or wine—is before Congress.

Introduced yesterday by Sen. Johnson (D-Colo.) and Sen. Chase (R-SD), it carries penalties not only for radio and television operators, but also certain makers and sellers of whisky.

Actually, radio and TV stations in the U. S. do not accept whisky advertisements. But there is no law against it. Radio stations in Alaska and Hawaii do, and the bill would apply to those territories.

The bill gives the Federal Communications Commission the right to revoke the license of any station violating the ban.

It also provides that the government may revoke or suspend all basic alcohol permits of companies breaking the law. This would include distillers, rectifiers, wholesalers and importers.

Penalty would be a fine of from $100 to $1,000, imprisonment from six months to a year, or both.

Fulbright to Direct RFC Investigation

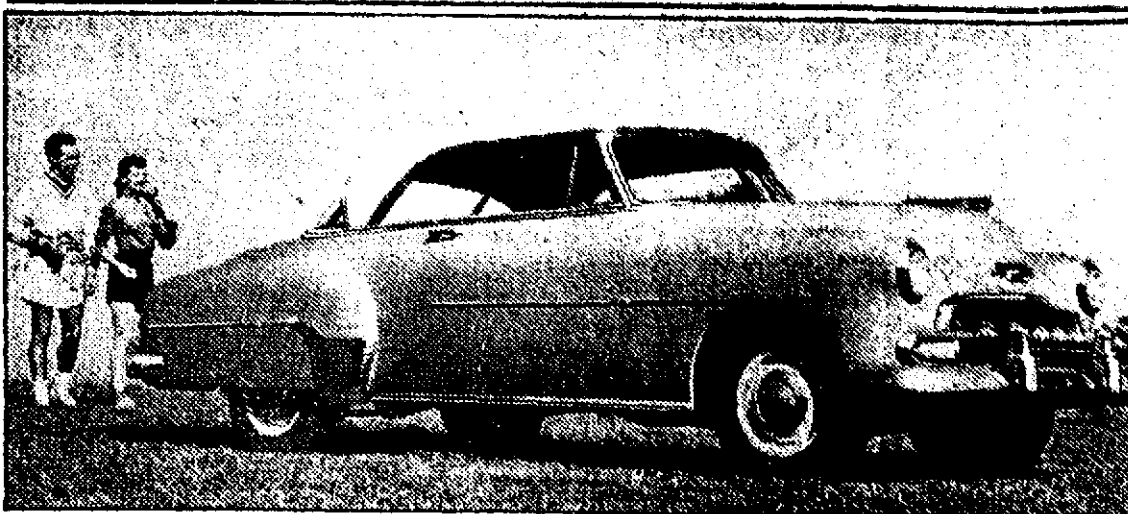

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) will direct a secret hearing tomorrow on the nomination of Harry A. McDonald to head the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The Senate Banking Committee announced that decision yesterday after House investigators turned down a senate request for information. The House committee is investigating the Securities and Exchange Commission now headed by McDonald.

Fulbright headed a Senate subcommittee's investigation into lending policies of the RFC, the government's multi-million dollar lending agency.

President Truman has asked for Senate confirmation of his appointment of McDonald, to succeed Stuart Symington, who resigned last week.

Striking Color Harmonies Grace New Bel Air

Smart, new styling and improved performance add further distinction to the 1952 Chevrolet Bel Air. In appearance, the latest models are marked by vivid two-tone color combinations and luxurious interiors that make use of fine fabrics and harmonizing leather trim. Increased comfort through new engine mounts and modified shock absorbers and more responsive operation through carburetor changes are advances incorporated in all new Chevrolets. Optional Powerglide will carry an automatic choke.

Businessman Due to Get Some Big Jolts

By SAM LAWSON

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Businessmen have some fairly unpleasant jolts in the weeks just ahead.

Some will be largely psychological. The jolts will come from comparisons of current and developing conditions with the booming opening weeks of 1951, when retail sales and prices were soaring, industrial production climbing and profits at peak highs.

Some of the jolts will be real—production slowdowns and layoffs, until defense production takes up the slack of lagging civilian output.

Also there may be weakening wholesale prices and the jolt of the new federal budget next week with its threat of a growing deficit, and its details as to just who President Truman thinks should pay five billion dollars more in taxes.

But against these jolts in the weeks just ahead is the expected boost to industry and trade from increasing defense spending as the year progresses.

Congress has voted $30 billion other 50 billion dollars, as the President has 90 billion dollars of that is yet to be spent. If Congress votes another 50 billion dollars, as the President may ask next week, that would make more than 140 billion dollars available over this year and next—to be translated into orders for factories, jobs for workmen, spending money for consumers.

But let's look at some of it in what may lie just ahead:

1. Annual profit statements of corporations will start flowing in a week or so. Some will be pleasant reading but many will show sharp drops from 1950, due to rising operating costs dumping price ceilings and above all due to the heavy hand of the tax collector.

2. Retail sales figures probably will fall behind last year's abnormal score buying for a few more weeks.

3. Industrial production may slip further before it starts to rise again in response to defense output. The index hit a peak of 223 per cent of the 1935-39 average in May, and has slipped back to 213 or below by now.

But the setback in production of civilian goods to save scarce metal is actually enabling some industries to bring production and inventories into better balance with customer demand, and may be preparing the way for pickup in demand later.

Unemployment, however, will grow as a result of any further drop in production. In December 1,674,000 were looking for jobs. Many believe that even more are unemployed now. Many of those still at work aren't working as many hours as a year ago—the

Sweden, Russia to Double Trade

Stockholm, Sweden, Jan. 18 (AP)—Sweden and Russia plan to double their trade—largely Russian wheat for Swedish machinery and metal goods—under a new trade agreement announced last night by the Swedish Foreign Office.

Sweden will send the Soviet Union steam turbines, electricity generators, iron, steel, metal products, machinery, instruments and butter worth about 23 million dollars. About one-third of this will be in electrical goods which the Russian previously bought on credit but now will pay for in cash.

Sweden expects to get goods worth between 17 and 19 million dollars. Two-thirds of that total will be for 100,000 tons of wheat. The rest will include asbestos, kerosene, and such alloy metals for steel-making as chromium, manganese and ferro-manganese.

Detroit Club Owner Briggs, Succumbs

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 17 (UPI)—Walter O. Briggs, owner of the Detroit Tigers Baseball Club and wealthy auto parts manufacturer, died at his winter home here today. He was 74.

The famed sportsman had been in poor health for several years and was stricken with a kidney ailment Sunday. He appeared to recover Monday and went on his regular weekday drive.

However, his condition worsened and his son, Walter O. (Spik) Briggs, Jr., flew here from Detroit. With him when he died this morning were his widow, his son, and the Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, auxiliary bishop of Detroit, who administered last rites.

Briggs would have been 75 on Feb. 27.

Chairman of the board of the giant manufacturing firm and sole owner of the Tigers, Briggs had been coming to Miami each season for about 20 years. He was one of the founders of the exclusive Indian Creek Country Club here, which last year made him an honorary vice president.

He came to Miami last September to be with his wife for the Christmas holidays.

Funeral services have not yet been made, pending transportation arrangements.

Briggs headed one of the biggest parts supplier companies in the automobile industry. But his love of sports went hand in hand with the success in business.

But he was best known as president of the Tigers, having acquired control in 1935. He also was deeply interested in horses and yachts. His steeplechairs were among the best. His yacht was one of the finest.

During the 1946 baseball winter trading, he gave his general manager, Billy Evans, a blank check to purchase a second baseman he thought necessary to win an American League pennant. Money never was an objective in his baseball deals.

Evans bid $200,000 for Gerald Priddy of the St. Louis Browns—and failed to make a deal.

Briggs lavished money in building Briggs Stadium, home of the Tigers. It is considered the most beautiful park in the majors.

Briggs took sole control of the Tigers in 1935 after the death of Frank J. Navin. He had purchased a half interest from the estate of William H. Hawkey in 1920 and was the partner of Navin and John Kelsey. With their deaths, he became sole owner.

Briggs was born at Ypsilanti, Mich., Feb. 27, 1877. He attended public schools in Detroit. His first job was on the Michigan Central Railroad where his father worked as an engineer. He advanced to yard foreman but quit in 1907 to work for a cement company.

Later he joined the B. F. Everitt Company as vice president, engaged in making auto body trim. He was made president and later he got control and changed the name to Briggs Manufacturing Company, now the largest independent maker of auto bodies.

In later years, Briggs was confined to a wheelchair and turned over the active management of his company to a son-in-law, W. Dean Robinson, and his son, Walter O. Jr. He remained as chairman of the board.

ELECTED
Little Rock, Jan. 18 (AP)—J. M. Spicer, Stuttgart rice grower, was elected president of the Arkansas Seed Growers Association at the organization's one-day convention here yesterday.

"Can you tell me the difference between elephants and fleas?"
"Nope."
"Well, an elephant can have fleas, but fleas can't have elephants."

New York in Tribute to Capt. Carlsen

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—A hero to the world, mild-mannered but steel-nerved Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlsen came home in triumph today and humbly said:

"All I did was do my duty."
The modest skipper, who for 16 days stuck by his foundering ship and gruffly created a new saga of the sea, got a whirlwind 12-minute reception as he stepped off the plane that brought him to Idlewild Airport.

Later today, he'll hit the "Ticker Tape Trail" through the concrete canyons of Lower Manhattan.

Glowing with joy at the embrace of his wife and two children, the stocky little sea captain—his five-foot six inches and weighs 160 pounds—waved his gold-braided cap to a crowd of several hundred persons and told them:

"Fellow citizens, I cannot hope to tell you how I feel at this time because of the warm welcome you have given me. Thank you. Thank you."

It was after 1 a. m. (EST), but the airport seethed with excitement. Searchlights swept the scene, special lighting studied the barriers set around the plane, movie cameras whirled and flash bulbs popped all amid the hubbub of voices wishing the captain well.

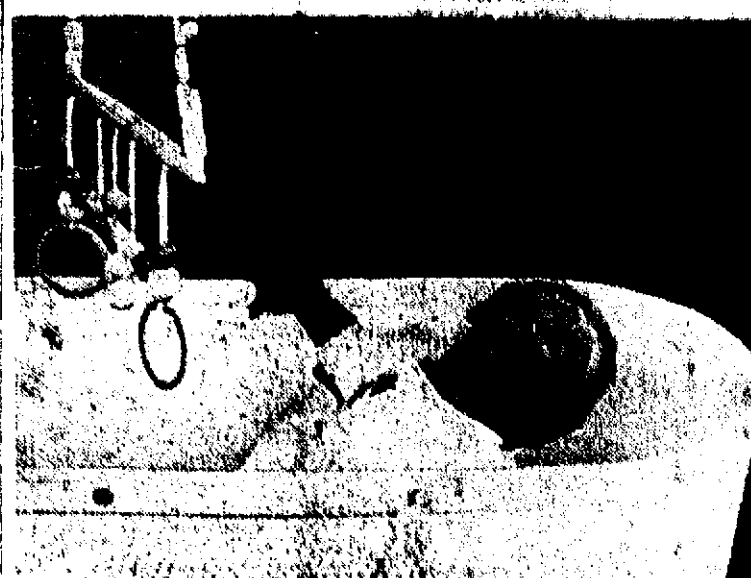

To newsman, the 37-year-old Carlsen said he felt "a little older" and that he planned to "get a little rest and go to sea again."

He and his wife, Agnes, and their two youngsters, Sonia, 11, and Karen, 7, posed willingly for photographers.

Carlsen wore a new brass-buttoned uniform of a Merchant Marine captain.

Besides official city greeters led by Grover Whalen, he was met by his boss, Hans Isbrandtsen, owner of the ill-fated freighter Flying Enterprise.

The 6,711-ton vessel started to

ORPHAN FINDS A HOME—"Bobo," a five-month-old gorilla, likes to loll in his bassinet in the Anacortes, Wash., home of his owner, William Angelo, who bought the ape from hunters who killed its parents in Africa. "Bobo" wears diapers, gets his bottle every three hours and ultimately will be weaned on bananas. He'll be sold to a circus in four or five years.

crack up in Heavy Atlantic seas last Dec. 28. Three days later Carlsen was alone on the badly listing craft, having ordered the 40 crewmen and 10 passengers to leave the ship and directed their rescue. One passenger later died.

Carlsen stayed alone on the nearly capsized ship until Jan. 5, when he was joined by Mate Kenneth R. Dancy of the British salvage tug Turmoil. The tug towed the freighter for five days until a new gale snipped the towline about 30 miles off the coast of Fal-mouth, England.

Minutes before the battered freighter keeled over and sank last Friday, Dancy and then Carlsen, left the ship.

Carlsen's "Atlantic Luck" even let him down in his plane flight home. The twin-decked Pan-American transport was forced to turn back Tuesday because of engine trouble when about 280 miles off the shores of Ireland. Yesterday

To Free Small Firms of Wage Controls

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—Employers with only three or four workers may soon be freed from wage controls.

Chairman Nathan Feinsinger said yesterday the Wage Stabilization Board will soon grant the exemption but has not set the number of employees an employer may have to be included.

This rule probably will touch those employers with four or less workers, Feinsinger told a round-table discussion of controls sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Exempting small employers would cause little additional inflation, he said.

fog blaked the scheduled landing at Newfoundland and the plane came down last night at Moncton, N. B.

New French Premier Deals With Crisis

Paris, Jan. 18 (AP)—A 53-year-old, at 43 France's youngest premier since 1870, worked to put together another coalition cabinet that would ease the nation's political crisis now in its 11th day.

Behind him was a big 400-1 confirmation vote last night in the National Assembly. To the left drew heavy applause from the benches of the center party.

But the vote did not mean that Faure still must form a new party team.

His victory margin on the confidence vote was so large that Gen. Charles de Gaulle's RPF, the single party bloc in the Assembly, abstained from the vote. The Communists voted against Faure.

Debate before the vote indicated the new premier would have one of the same troubles that brought the downfall of his predecessor, Rene Pleven—uncertain support from the big Socialist bloc of 160 members. In announcing that his party would vote to confirm Faure, Socialist Deputy Marcel David told the Assembly:

"We mean to allow Faure to be administered, but it goes without saying we remain free at all further decisions."

This made it likely, Faure's cabinet, like Pleven's, would have no Socialists.

APPOINTED
Little Rock, Jan. 18 (AP)—Miss Gladys Smith of Little Rock was appointed to the State Department's Cosmology by Governor McNamara yesterday. She succeeds Mrs. Nell Reeves of Monette, whose term expired.

Don, he said, but would free many businessmen from the controls.

ON DISPLAY TOMORROW

Chevrolet

Brilliantly NEW for '52!

ALLURING NEW INTERIOR COLORS

NEW ROYAL-TONE STYLING

NEW IMPROVED POWER-JET CARBURETION

GORGEOUS NEW EXTERIOR COLORS

New Centerpoise Power

LOWEST PRICED IN ITS FIELD!

This great new Styling De Luxe 4-Door Sedan lists for less than any comparable model in its field. (Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

It's Big... Bright and Beautiful!

The Only Fine Cars
PRICED SO LOW!

YOUNG CHEVROLET CO.

300 East Second St.

HOPE, ARK.

Phone 7-2354

Come, see the finest of all Chevrolets... brilliantly new for '52 in all these exciting ways:

Gorgeous New Royal-Tone Styling... with Bodies by Fisher that set the standard for beauty.

Radiant New Exterior Colors... widest and most wonderful array of colors in the low-price field.

Alluring New Interior Colors... with two-tone upholstery and trim to harmonize with exterior colors, in all De Luxe sedan and coupe models.

New Centerpoise Power... engine is cushioned in rubber to bring amazing new smoothness of operation and freedom from vibration to low-cost motoring.

New, smoother, softer ride for all passengers.

All these and many other enviable advantages are yours in these new Chevrolets at lowest prices and with outstanding economy of operation. They're the only fine cars priced so low. See them now!

Extra-smooth POWER GLIDE with New Automatic Choke, gives finest no-shift driving at lowest cost. (Combination of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. Engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.)

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CARS

CUP FOR CAPTAIN CARLSEN—Boston University co-ed Mona Bloomberg holds a 124-year-old silver chalice which will be awarded to Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlsen, heroic skipper of the lost American freighter Flying Enterprise. The chalice previously awarded to sea Capt. Ingram Chapman in 1828, will be presented to Carlsen by the New England Antique Association for his gallant efforts to save his storm-battered ship. In its million-dollar mixed cargo, the Flying Enterprise carried a small irreplaceable fortune in European art objects and antique furniture destined for U. S. collectors.

CLASSIFIED

Ads Must Be In Office Day Before Publication

WANT AD RATES
 10c per line per day in advance but ads may be accepted over the telephone and accommodations accounts allowed. THE UNDERSTANDING ACCOUNT IS PAYABLE WHEN STATEMENT IS RENDERED.

Number	One	Three	Six	One
Words	Days	Days	Days	Month
1 to 10	.45	.80	1.50	4.50
11 to 20	.75	1.50	2.50	7.50
21 to 30	1.00	2.00	3.50	10.00
31 to 40	1.25	2.50	4.50	12.50
41 to 50	1.50	3.00	5.50	15.00

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 10c per line per day in advance but ads may be accepted over the telephone and accommodations accounts allowed. THE UNDERSTANDING ACCOUNT IS PAYABLE WHEN STATEMENT IS RENDERED.

Wanted
 ONE experienced waitress. Good salary. See Mrs. Carroll, Diamond Cafe. 20-TP.

For Sale
 USED clothing of all kinds. Wholesale only. Write for low prices. Jeffries, Box 61, Downey, Calif. D-28-1M.

For Sale
 Cushman motor scooter. Dial 7-3551. 10-31.

For Sale
 MALE and female black cocker spaniels. Excellent pedigree. $19 and $25. Phone 7-3828. 17-31.

For Sale
 CHEST of Community Plate Silver. "Morning Star" Pattern. Some pieces never used. Service for eight. Phone 7-3821. 17-31.

For Sale
 184 ACRE farm. Fair 4 room house. outbuildings fair to good. productive land, plenty grass and live water and considerable timber. Located 2 miles above Cross Roads on Hope and Columbia road. Parker Rogers. 17-31.

For Sale
 SUBURBAN home. 8 rooms and bath. Venetian blinds. 2 1/2 acres of land. Wash house, chicken house, small barn. Phone 7-3772. 18-31.

Notice
 EVERYTHING for your sewing needs. Custom made covered buttons, belts and buckles. Also free one 2 hour sewing lesson in latest fashion stitches. Contact or call your nearest Singer Sewing Center, 108 South Elm. 18-31.

Lost
 BLACK Cocker Spaniel pup. Male 3 months old. answers to name Judge. $5 reward. Ferrel Baker. Baker Feed Store. 18-31.

Salesman Wanted
 EXPENSES. Liberal earnings provided for experienced home-to-home salesmen over 40 with car. No investment. Pay first day. Openings in every Arkansas town. Write particulars Lee Company, Marshall, Texas. 17-11.

Help Wanted
 COLORED woman fry cook or one that can learn to fry cook. Apply Manager Diamond Cafe. 37-TP.

For Rent
 FURNISHED apartment. 3 rooms and bath. 420 Edgewood. Dial 7-2367, after 5 p.m. 7-2775. 4-TP.

For Rent
 UNFURNISHED apartment. Close in on South Main St. Dial 7-5503 or 7-2227. J-5-1m.

For Rent
 FURNISHED 2 room apartment. Private bath, garage. No children. Phone 7-4382. Mrs. Anna Jackson, 220 N. Elm. J-5-1m.

For Rent
 2 UNFURNISHED 3 room garage apartments with private baths. One 3 room house available for occupancy January 20th. 1311 West Avenue B. For appointment Phone 7-2143. 12-31.

For Rent
 NICE 4 room furnished duplex apartment. New electric refrigerator. Private entrance. Garage. Mrs. P. E. Cook, 908 West Ave. B. 15-31.

For Rent
 UNFURNISHED apartment. Close in. No children. Phone 7-3551. 18-31.

Sports Mirror
 By The Associated Press
 Today 9 Year Ago — The Baltimore Colts withdrew from the National Football League.
 Five Years Ago — The Detroit Tigers sold veteran Hank Greenberg to the Pittsburgh Pirates for an unannounced price.
 Ten Years Ago — Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees was voted "Player of the Year" by the "New York Baseball Writers" Association.
 Twenty Years Ago — Bill Dickey and Ben Chapman were named among the early holdouts of the New York Yankees.
 Earlier Visit
 Some authorities believe Columbus visited Iceland in 1477, 15 years before his voyage of discovery, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Legal Notice
 LEGAL NOTICE
 All owners of real property within the following described territory:
 Lots 1, 9, 10, 11 and North Half of Lots 2 and 3, Block 1, and Lots 7 to 12 inclusive, Block 4, all in Garrett & Wingfield Addition to the City of Hope;
 Tracts 301 and 302 according to the revised official map of the City of Hope approved March 15, 1949.
 in the City of Hope, are hereby notified that a petition has been filed with the City Clerk of the said City of Hope, purporting to be signed by two-thirds in value of the owners of real property within said territory, which petition prays that a local improvement district be formed embracing said territory for the purpose of paving with bituminous surfacing (blacktop) all of the following streets:
 1. South Grady Street from West Seventh Street South to the spur track of the Louisiana & Arkansas Railway Company.
 2. West Ninth (Mack) Street from South Grady West a distance of one-half block.
 3. 130 feet on West Seventh extending from South Grady, and that the cost thereof be assessed and charged upon the real property above described. All owners of real property within said territory are advised that said petition will be heard at the meeting of the City Council to be held at the hour of 7:30 P. M. on the 5th day of Feb. 1952, and that at said meeting said Council will determine whether those signing the same constitute two-thirds in value of such owners of real property; and, at said meeting all owners of real property within said territory who desire will be heard upon the question.
 Mrs. Chas. F. Reynerson
 City Clerk
 Jan. 18, 1952.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
 By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
 New York, Jan. 18 (AP) — When the New York Highlanders later become the Yankees came into the American League, they got their franchise from Baltimore for $100,000. With Baltimore seeking a franchise, it seems the least Ted Collins could do would be to sell his Yankees to that city for the same price. He'd probably have money in the bank now, too.
 The departure of Willie Mays for the armed forces leaves the Giants a heck of a problem. Chuck (Good Field) Frazier from the Cards, Gail Hestley, former U. of Southern California player, and Floppy Hartung are the only available outfielders on the roster unless Leo Durocher decides to reconvert some of his infielders. Hockey fans in Watertown, Mass., are up in arms because two of their boys Joe Folino and Dick Bradley were brushed off the Olympic squad.
 Ted Pollard got a chuckle from the railbirds at Gulfstream Park the other day by telling about his race at Agua Caliente in which he has a brush with B. Matt, a full-blooded Indian jockey. Matt crowded Pollard a bit and had cracked him across the back with his bat as a reminder that he needed room. As they returned to the jockey room, Matt asked angrily: "Why did you hit me with your whip?" Replied Pollard: "It was this way, Matt. Just as we got to the half-mile pole, I happened to think what your ancestors did to Custer."
 The Pooler of Gloster, Miss., have formed a family basketball team for winter "independent" play. Heading the roster from Gloster are Barney of the football Yanks and Ray of the grid
 One of America's latest synthetic fibers, orlon, now has been converted into a black substance that has the unusual property of resisting temperatures as high as 1400 degrees Fahrenheit.
 Although the other big Pacific Coast independent have dropped football, Santa Clara feels it has the nucleus of a fine 1952 schedule with California, Stanford and Rice listed. Dwane Morrison, the hottest thing South Carolina U. has seen on the basketball court this year, is one of four kids who came there from Campbellsville, Ky., Junior College. When melting snow soaked the "Pneumonia Downs" practice track under the U. of Oklahoma stadium, Coach John Jacobs tried to soak up the water with sawdust. It worked only on one lane and Jacobs moaned: "I had my dashmen hit the sawdust trail single file, just like they were at a revival."
 CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN
 NOW The Parson was addressing his adult congregation. "We are a community," he was saying. "We are partners, all of us, in a big business, the business of being a Christian community worthy of the name. A community that must learn to pull together, to co-operate for a common good. We are divided, here in this community, by different churches, different political parties, different races," he paused, "and even different ideas. But we are bound together by a common pride and a common responsibility. We work for the common welfare."
 "We cannot have a great nation without great communities. We all know that the higher the average morality and intelligence, the safer in the state. We know, too, that the raising of this average is entrusted to the hands of a few, and that when a society speaks derogatorily of its chosen teachers then that society is unsound."
 Behind Constance the Melick pew creaked suddenly as if in violent protest and she caught her breath. Joe Melick lay in the hospital, a badly injured young man. In her heart she had hoped that his condition might prevent Alvin from appearing this morning. But Joe was not to die, and Alvin was here.
 Well, it was true enough. How it had ever started, Constance did not know. A rumor had it now that Edna had not fallen downstairs but that Donald and she had been out on a wild ride together. They had been drinking. Wasn't he used to that sort of thing? Didn't drink flow in his own home? The facts seemed indisputable. Edna was confined at home under Dr. Alcock's care, to whom Donald had taken her long after midnight. Donald had driven his car to Rossett's garage the next day to get a smashed fender fixed. And Donald's overcoat—blood stained—had been cleaned by the local tailor.
 The story was false, of course. Yet it had been seized upon by Donald's enemies, and he himself would neither deny it nor explain it. Only the Atwoods and the Moores knew the truth, outside of Edna's own family. Alvin's account was that Joe, returning alone from a class reunion, had skidded and crashed. It he knew better, he would never admit it. Why should he? It furthered his ends to have Donald the party involved with Edna, rather than his own son. Furthermore, if the truth were told now, would it make any difference? Those who wanted to believe ill of Donald would, anyway. Those who didn't held him blameless, no matter what was said. No, little would be helped by the real story of that night. Edna, a mere child, had already been punished for it. Her happiness lay with Mike, to whom Donald had persuaded her to give the facts. But there was no point. Donald had said, in broadcasting them further, because Edna feared—and perhaps rightly—that then Joe's accident might somehow be blamed on her. "I touched him," she had said. "I touched his arm just before we went off the road. If I felt it was me with him, he'd get back at me. I know he will." Her terror of Joe had been real.
 Constance returned finally to Barth.
 "We are confronted by a crisis in our community affairs," she heard him say. "We are living in a time—unfortunately when we seem to enjoy most a tasting of the imperfections that exist among us whilst our appetite for life itself, the truly wonderful adventure,
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.
 Barth said, still quietly, "I hope that isn't a threat, neighbor."
 "Take it as a warning!" Melick snapped, and, pushing by without touching Barth's outstretched hand, he made for the door.
 Barth was sitting out in his field this morning, weren't you your course."
 Constance could see Barth's silvery head rear up and his eyes flash for a moment. But his voice was mild.
 "I can't agree," he said. "In my position I find I must sometimes speak as the conscience of my flock."
 "Well, you spoke out of turn, then. According to my understanding of your duties, you spoke out of turn. After this, stick to the Bible and to church matters. That's your province. Let school affairs alone. I'll attend to them."
 The organ was still now, and you could hear a pin drop. Breathlessly Constance waited.

BLONDIE

OZARK IKE

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

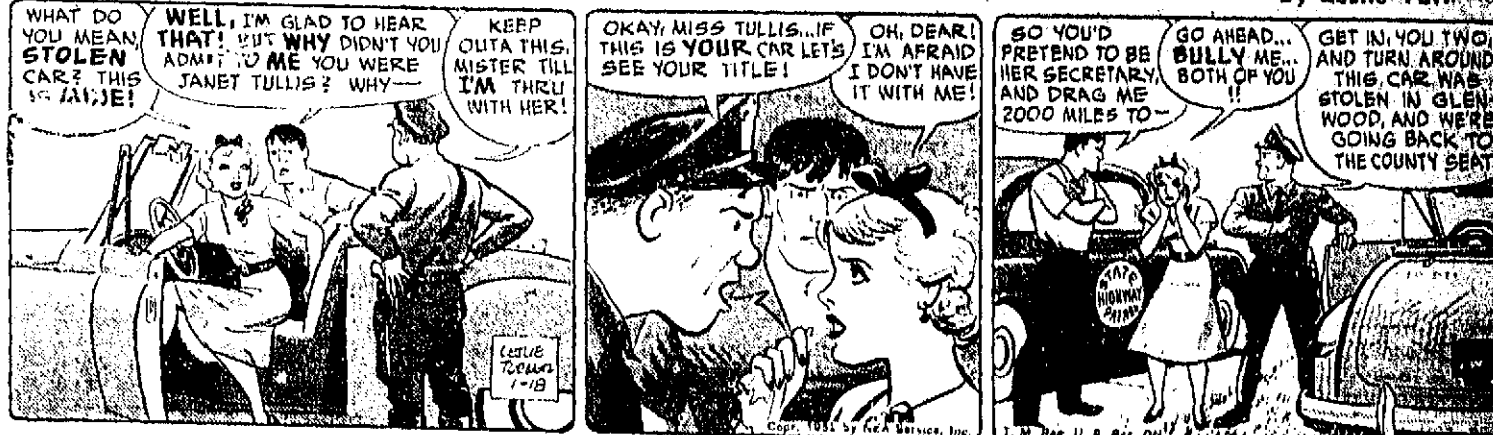

VIC FLINT

By Michael O'Malley and Ralph Lund

WASH TUBBS

By Leslie Turner

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

By Edgar Martin

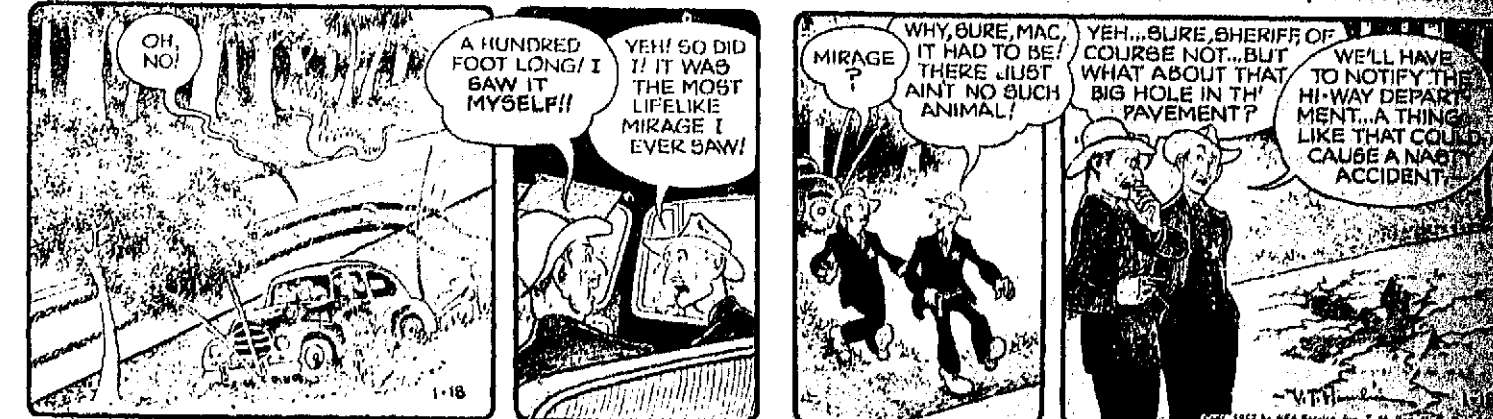

BUGS BUNNY

ALLEY OOP

By V. T. Hamlin

CHRIS WELKIN, Pioneer

By Russ Winterbottom

HENRY

By Carl Anderson

This Is the End

Answer to Previous Puzzle

HORIZONTAL	4 Taverns	13 Reparat	14 Card game	15 Ends of thorny bushes	16 Esteem	17 Cans	18 Saurel	20 Dress stone	21 Mineral rock	22 End of a bull calf	23 Malaria fever	24 Tickers (prov.)	26 Decorates	27 Came in	29 Mouse genus	30 Before	31 Blackthorns	34 Loud speaker	38 End of a soldier's day	39 End of light	40 High priest	41 Upon (prefix)	42 Lateral part	43 Observed	44 Excesses of solar over lunar years	46 Scents	48 Captured again	49 Cylindrical	50 Soaks	51 Planted
1 End of a sentence	8 Meal endings	7 Wild	3 Chilled	9 Scold	10 District in Tanganyika territory	11 Heart auricle	12 Shelves	19 Container	22 Goddess of love	23 Shakespearean forest	25 Greek districts	26 Russian river	28 Ends of advances	31 Guides	32 Small flap	33 Drug	34 Sorry	37 Washed lightly	39 Round metal plates	42 End	43 Painful	45 Ontario hill	47 Wild (Scot.)	35 Seethed	36 Chemical ester

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With Major Hoople

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Harshberger

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

ANY PORT IN A STORM! I HOPE IT'S EMPTY!

I'LL TEACH YOU...

THIS'LL TEACH ME, ALL RIGHT, NOT TO STICK MY NOSE IN OTHER PEOPLE'S MILK CANS!

CARNIVAL

By Dick Turner

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

Churchill Is a Product of 19th Century

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Winston Churchill looks like what he is, an old man of 77. He retains what he always had, stubbornness and steely business. But he's the end of an era, and one seems to elude him. He is a product of the 19th century, which he loved, and in a nation, which by the 20th, his speech to Congress yesterday was full of "vitality." But it was a study of history.

In World War I he was a steady ally, which he remains now in the struggle with Communism. He made that clear in his talk. No one doubts his word or his intentions.

In the last war he showed the profound depths of his stubbornness when by his unyielding will against the Nazis, he carried his people to victory, the finest page in British history.

Counting the colonial empire it had acquired by conquest, the 19th century Britain in which he grew up was the greatest single power on earth, commercially, numerically, and militarily.

It is no longer that. Died almost to death by war, it was left impoverished, lacking the power and resources to hold its ancient empire. India, for instance, got its independence.

As its power dwindled, so did its prestige, for the prestige had been based on power, particularly among the colonial and backward people. Events in Iran and Egypt show how that prestige has suffered.

People everywhere after the war began to demonstrate their deep desire for national independence. The desire had been there. But it had been held in check. The rule of the war unleashed it.

This became one of the great facts of the mid-20th century. During the war Churchill was unwilling to let the world force this. For he knew he who said he had not become his majesty's first minister to provide over the liquidation of the empire.

The events that have happened since the war, he said, have left him astounded. And even now, in the face of facts, and a diminished Britain, Churchill looks with nostalgia on the 19th century, as he revealed in the use of a single word, "predominant."

"When the war ended," he said, speaking at the Middle East, "the Western nations were respected and predominant throughout the area. The people of the Middle East could answer this by telling Churchill the treatment the British have reserved there springs from their determination not to let anyone be predominant over them."

And Churchill proudly told Congress he not only thinks the other nations of Western Europe should be unified, and have a common policy, but has urged it on them. But as for Britain—no, he would RED PRISONERS COME IN FAMILY GROUPS—A group of Communist guerrilla prisoners of war, including their children, waits to be processed at a stockade of the South Korean Capital Division somewhere in Korea. Many of the captured guerrillas are graduates of special Communist Party guerrilla schools.

PRESCOTT NEWS

The Ben Owen's Department Store personnel, held their annual banquet Tuesday evening at Hotel Lawson, with thirty-five employees from Hope, Camden, Nashville, Magnolia and Prescott attending.

Mr. Owen, whose home is at Hope, showed two films produced by General Motors Company on "The Right and Wrong Way of Selling." Following the film, Mr. Owen gave an interesting talk on merchandising.

Mr. W. S. Blake, assistant manager, expressed his appreciation for the fine spirit and cooperation shown by the personnel for the past year.

Monday night Jan. 21, The Community Development Council will meet at the city hall at 7:30 every one is urged to attend.

At the weekly dinner meeting last Thursday night, of the Kiwanis Club, three members were honored for perfect attendance for five years: L. J. Bryson, Gus McCaskill and Floyd Hubbard, for three years perfect attendance those honored were: Joe T. Smith, Vol Chamberlain and Jeff Livingston.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. J. E. Barham of Emmett, who is happy over the arrival of a son, born on January 15, at the Cora Donnell Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McFarlane of Little Rock is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Tompkins.

was J. Bryon Ritchie, Nevada County School Supervisor. He chose for his subject "Juvenile Delinquency."

Prescott B&W Club will meet Tuesday evening Jan. 22, at the home of Miss Frances Bailey with Mrs. Herbert Hawley and Miss Margaret Avery co-hostesses. Miss Jimmie Nicholas will present the program. The meeting is called for 7:30 p.m.

The Victory Home Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Thell Hanning, Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. Gladys Campbell of Newport is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hullock.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stephenson have returned home, after having been the guest for the past two weeks of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Archer Jr. and Dr. Archer and family of Conway.

Mrs. Gil Buchanan has returned home from Magnolia where she visited her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barham of Emmett are happy over the arrival of a son, born on January 15, at the Cora Donnell Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McFarlane of Little Rock is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Tompkins.

Mrs. Floyd Leavette of Hope was guest Wednesday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hitt of Stillwater, Okla., former residents of Prescott arrived this week and are guests of Mrs. Bob Hitt. Mr. and Mrs. Hitt plan to make Prescott their home.

Miss Carol Sue Sudsberry left Sunday night for Juliet, Ill. to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Caren Sudsberry, former residents of Prescott.

Mrs. Charles Harrell of Hope has returned to her home after having been the guest of relatives here over the week end.

Louise Suggs Gets Good Start

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 18 (AP)—Little Louise Suggs is off to a good start for the Tampa Women's Open Golf championship she has been after so long.

The young Georgian has been second in every one of the five previous Tampa Women's Opens. She capped out a 363672 for a one stroke lead in the first round of the 72 hole $3,500 event yesterday. She was two under par.

Right behind Miss Suggs were Bettye Rawls of Austin, Texas, and Martene Bauer of Sarasota, each with 73.

Car Window Sticker Is Protested

Little Rock, Jan. 18 (AP)—That car window sticker about Arkansas—the one that shows a barefoot mountaineer, a jug of liquor and a razorback hog—has drawn the official displeasure of the state government.

Arkansas State Publicity Director Eugene Newsom has written the St. Louis firm manufacturing these stickers—they're a popular item with tourists—suggesting that the Arkansas sticker be redesigned. Newsom offered the services of his office.

Newsom acted on the suggestion of Rep. E. C. Gathings, who wrote a complaint to Newsom's office. Gathings contends the design slurs the state and that it depressed him.

In his letter to the St. Louis company, Newsom wrote:

"We think this sort of thing (the design) is not only discriminatory against a great state and a great people but we think it is entirely out of line with Arkansas of 1952, or any other state for that matter."

Newsom didn't offer any suggestions for another design, but Gathings tossed in these suggestions: strawberries, bauxite, diamonds, cotton, soybeans, rice, recreational areas.

Packard Motor Director Dies

Detroit, Jan. 17 (AP)—Alvin Macauley, automotive pioneer who directed the Packard Motor Car Co. for 32 years, died last night at Clearwater, Fla. He would have been 80 years old today.

Death resulted from uremic poisoning and pneumonia.

Macauley joined Packard in 1914 as general manager and was appointed vice president three years later. In 1916 he was elected president. He was named chairman of the board in 1930 and retired in 1948.

Under Macauley's direction Packard developed such models as the Packard Six and the "Clipper." The firm specialized in developing other engines and in 1924 built the first engine designed specifically for a tank.

FUN AT EIGHTY—Miss Mabelle Cutler of Jaffrey Center, N. H., celebrates her 80th birthday by coasting down the hill in front of her home. Miss Cutler still prefers the prone style of sledding that she first learned 70 years ago. "Dignity be hanged," she says. Another of her diversions is mountain climbing, using snowshoes.

Tunisia Leaders Are Arrested

Tunis, Tunisia, Jan. 18 (AP)—Two leaders of the independence-seeking Tunisian Nationalist party and the secretary of the Tunisian Communists have been arrested, French authorities announced today.

Their arrest followed sweeping violence in this North African dependency of France. Three Tunisians were killed and at least 50 more seriously injured by police rifle fire which broke up riots yesterday at Ferryville and near Bizerte.

The Neo-Destour (New Constitutional) Nationalist party planned to defy a French ban today and hold a congress here. French authorities control Tunisia under a protectorate.

Arrested last night, authorities disclosed, were Habib Bourguiba, president of the Neo-Destour; Mongi Slim, the party's secretary general, and Maurice Nizar, secretary of the small Communist party.

Bourguiba visited the United States and Britain last year. After his return to North Africa, French authorities expelled him from the international zone of Tangier.

During his trip abroad Bourguiba attacked France's "complete and pitiless colonial yoke" and "selfish and criminal exploitation" of her North African dependencies.

Airline Wants to Expand to Arkansas

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—If Central Airlines is granted permission to expand its service in Arkansas, it can schedule flights within four months, an official of the line told the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday.

Central is seeking a 5-year re-

Carlson and Family Relax

Woodbridge, N. J., Jan. 18 (AP)—Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlson and his family relaxed today in their modest home, protected from admirers by a police guard.

The unassuming skipper of the doomed freighter Flying Enterprise rested up from the tumultuous reception given him by more than a quarter million New Yorkers yesterday.

But that's not the only welcome-home celebration for the valiant sea captain who spent two weeks aboard his broken freighter braving the fury of the storm-tossed Atlantic.

His hometown prepared for its own ceremonies tomorrow.

Meanwhile, "stayput" Carlson, as he has come to be known, and his wife and two daughters enjoyed a belated Christmas.

When he arrived at his home yesterday, he found a Christmas tree, still decorated. There were presents marked "For Daddy."

The Danish-born captain, his wife Agnes, and children, Sonja, 11, and Karen, 7, said they want to resume living a normal life.

A vastly increased demand for cobalt has resulted from its use in jet engines.

newal of authority to operate its present route between Ft. Worth, Dallas, Tex., and Wichita, Kan., adding some additional Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas towns.

It also wants to extend its route from Texarkana to Memphis by way of Hot Springs, Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Stuttgart and Helena, Ark., and from Pine Bluff to Shreveport by way of El Dorado and Magnolia, Ark. Camden has asked to be included on any new Arkansas line.

Two other airlines—Trans Texas and Pioneer—are seeking authority to operate over similar routes in Arkansas.

J. L. Blackwell, assistant operations manager of Central, testified before the CAB yesterday.

Night Coughs

due to colds... eased without "dosing" RUB ON VICKS VAPOR

Be Holsum

Here's a genuine improvement in bread. Taste Holsum and you will know to your heart's content how much flavor can add to good health-giving bread. So be Holsum today, enjoy happier Holsum tomorrows.

Look Holsum

Holsum adds so much to the pleasure of good eating every day. Look Holsum—know the joy of Holsum living. Buy Holsum and notice how the plastic package keeps Holsum flavor fresher.

Buy Holsum

"We did it Again!"

That's the jubilant news that comes from Flint to every Buick dealer—and here we pass the thrilling story on to you. It sure is true for '52 that better automobiles are being built—and Buick is building them. Read the good word and you'll agree.

And with all its new power, it delivers more miles per gallon.

But that is not all.

For those who wish it, there is a brand-new version of power steering that works like a helping hand—gives you the same sure feel of control you have always known in straight-away driving—yet takes less than one-fifth the effort needed to turn the ordinary wheel standing at curbside.

Sure, we're putting our best foot forward when we talk about ROADMASTER.

But you'll find a host of notable features in SUPERS and SPECIALS too—plenty to make them, as always, the standout buys in their fields—for ride, for comfort, for style, for room, and for power.

Come in—look this triumphant trio over—and you'll know why every Buick dealer from coast to coast is going around with a smile on his face.

FIRST SHOWING SATURDAY

ROGER CLINTON BUICK CO.

207 E. 3rd & Walnut Hope, Arkansas